Cold Snap Caps Tam With Snow

High Hills Catch Up To An Inch

There was skiing on Mount Tam today.

It wasn't really ski depth, but Michael Bry, Sausalito photographer, tried it out and found enough snow cover to slide down the slopes on his skis.

The white stuff remained on the shady slopes until well after 9 a.m.

Lt. Gerald D. Wolfram of the 666th Radar Squadron atop the mountain, said the snow fell during much of the night.

"When I got up this morning, the dogs were playing in it," he said.

Other hilltops north of the mountain were also white with snow, he reported. There was snow on Big Rock Ridge near Novato.

The unusually heavy snowfall for Mount Tam accompanied a sharp cold snap which began with showers yesterday afternoon.

Temperatures dropped to 30 degrees in Tamalpais Valley and 32 in Novato, with other points near the freezing mark.

VIRGIL S. HOLLIS
Seeking third term

By FRANK FARRARA

The Sausalito City Council last night unanimously passed a resolution urging county supervisors to declare rezoning of the Marincello site "null and void."

The council challenged the legality of the rezoning procedure. It authorized whatever immediate legal action is necessary to "carry out the intent" of its resolution.

Councilmen want to nullify planned community zoning which opened the way for the planned community of Marincello on 2,138 acres west of Sausalito.

"The City of Sausalito has long opposed the desecration of the Marin headlands that would be caused by creation of an urban community, like Marincello," the resolution states. "Creation of such a community would have an adverse effect on the public welfare of Sausalito and of all Marin County."

Approval of planned community zoning by the Marin County Board of Supervisors "has already had the effect of setting a precedent for similar parcels of property and forcing development of land that would better be kept in open space," the council claimed.

The resolution challenged the legality of the Marincello rezoning procedure on two counts:

First, that the Marin County Planning Commission did not forward to supervisors a summary of its hearings on the rezoning, as required by law.

Second, that supervisors failed to give the required 10 days public notice before their hearing on the rezoning on Jan. 19, 1965.

CLAIMS COPY

Attorney Richard H. Breiner, representing property owners who claim the rezoning was invalid, said the planning commission sent a copy of the minutes of their hearing to supervisors, but he did not consider this as compliance with the law.

Breiner said supervisors published notice of their hearing on Jan. 13, only six days before the hearing instead of the required 10 days. Supervisors did not vote on Jan. 19, but did close the hearing, he said.

BOARD APPROVED

Supervisors approved the rezoning Feb. 2, 1965, after reopening the hearing because of an overflow turnout at the Civic Center.

Breiner said that his clients would be willing to join the city in a suit to challenge the rezoning and would be willing to

William Patrick's Papers Taken Out

Petition papers for candidacy for governor were taken out for William Penn Patrick, 35, of Tiburon, shortly before noon today at the Marin County clerk's office.

Patrick, who started Holiday Magic Marin cosmetics firm in San Rafael a year ago, is seeking the GOP nomination. He announced his candidacy last Nov. 15, saying he is willing to spend $1.5 million and more for his campaign. Filing fee was $882.

Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, Marin County superintendent of schools, today also took out papers. He is seeking his third term of office. He was unopposed last time.

In announcing his decision to run again, Hollis said his "immediate goal is to help establish fiscal responsibility for the Marin County Board of Education . . .

"Since the number one business in Marin County is education, and about 60 cents of every tax dollar goes for education, it has become increasingly important for the county board of education to have the responsibility and accountability for educational matters."

Hollis received his bachelor of arts degree from Humboldt State College, his master's degree from University of California, at Berkeley, and his doctorate in education from Stanford University.

Last year he was one of 36 U. S. schoolmen selected to go to Russia for a study of education there.

Tam Trustee E. J. Thomas Dies At 61

Edmund J. Thomas Jr., chairman of Tamalpais High School District Board and a trustee of the district for 30 years, was found dead at his home in San Anselmo late yesterday. He was 61.

Police were called when Thomas failed to keep an appointment with his doctor, Dr. Chad H. Calland of San Rafael, who was treating him for a heart condition. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Entry was gained to his home at 144 Pine Street through an open rear window. Thomas's body was found lying in the bedroom. He had apparently died the day before, said Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

Thomas, a bachelor who lived alone, has suffered a heart attack in February of last year and was in hospital for several months.

Born in San Francisco, he came to Marin County in 1916 and made his home in San Anselmo. His parents were the first couple married at Corte Madera Episcopal Church.

When he took his seat as a trustee of Tamalpais High School District in 1936, he was the youngest member on the board. Subsequent re-elections made him the longest serving trustee on any school board in the county. He was chairman for six terms.

He watched the district grow from one school to three, and helped to shape its growth. From the beginning, he was a staunch

County Orders Scaled-Down Job Of Widening Drake Bottleneck

Marin County supervisors yesterday approved a $574,000 widening project for Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from McAllister Avenue to Ross town limits, to be funded and constructed over the next three years.

The proposal is not nearly so vast as the original $2.9 million project which involved purchase of right of way on both sides of the boulevard from Laurel Grove Avenue to the Ross line. The reduced design is aimed at curing the traffic problem at the College Avenue intersection with the boulevard.

Four parcels would be acquired near the intersection and used for parking lots, replacing parking lanes earlier proposed in the bigger job.

Only protest came from residents of Kentfield who urged that the board order the crosswalk put back on the south side of the intersection. Frost said he changed it to the north side because of better sight distance there.

Supervisors also authorized the purchase of a lot next to the Kentfield fire station from Marlin Properties for $105,000. A portion of the property will be used for parking and a portion traded to the Kentfield Fire District for land the district will lose in the project.

Two other lots are proposed for public purchase on the east side of the boulevard and another at the southwest corner of the College Avenue intersection.

Demos Prolong Viet Nam War, GOP Charges

COMBINED UPI & AP

WASHINGTON — House Republican leaders today accused Democratic "doves" of encouraging the enemy and prolonging the Viet Nam war.

Professing their own support for the war effort, they nevertheless hung a qualified "Johnson's war" label on the fighting in Viet Nam. But they denied they were making politics out of the issue and said they have no intention of doing so.

"We don't intend to tell Mr. Johnson how to run his war," said Rep. John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz., chairman of the House GOP Policy Committee, at a leadership news conference called to point up a "deep division" among Democrats on Viet Nam.

The targets of the GOP leadership were Democrats who criticized Johnson's policies during the Senate's drawn-out debate on the $4.8 billion emergency military aid bill, which was passed by both houses yesterday.

Before approving the measure, the Senate crushed by a 92-5 vote an effort by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., to revoke a 1964 resolution which endorsed the use of force by President Johnson to combat Communist aggression in Asia.

Late Winter Storm Whitens Rockies

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A late winter storm dumped heavy snow across the central Rockies and plains states today and the Weather Bureau posted hazard warnings for travelers in much of the area.

Special stock warnings were posted for Wyoming, Colorado, western and central Nebraska and western South Dakota. Hazardous driving warnings went up for Colorado and Wyoming.

The developing storm was expected to move steadily eastward to the high plains by tonight.

Five inches of snow ran Salt Lake City's total in the new storm to 10. Five more inches fell at Evanston and Lander, Wyo., and Evanston reported 20 inches on the ground.

High winds were forecast for Kansas.

Rain spread along the Pacific Coast but elsewhere most of the country enjoyed clear skies with mild temperatures. Winds of up to 55 miles per hour lashed the Northeast last night.

Four Reported Missing On Boat

A Coast Guard helicopter and cutter were searching an area a mile off the coast between Rocky Point and Muir Beach this afternoon after receiving reports four persons were missing from an overturned cabin cruiser.

The overturned boat was identified as the Whirl-a-Way, but no other details were immediately available.

The Coast Guard received a radio message at 11:45 a.m. from another vessel which reported a boat overturned and one man sighted clinging to it.

Ten miutes later, the man was picked up and said four of his companions were missing. The Coast Guard dispatched its helicopter and a 95-foot cutter from Sausalito to the scene.

Clay-Terrell Fight Moved To Montreal

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell heavyweight title fight was moved to Montreal today, and still is scheduled for March 29.

The bout was knocked out of Chicago, its original site, a short time before Main Bout, Inc., holders of the closed-circuit television rights announced the switch to Montreal. (See story on sports page 33.)

LBJ Wants Cabinet Status For Transportation Czar

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to create a department of transportation pulling together many activities now handled elsewhere, and to provide $700 million for a six-year highway safety program and $200 million for the supersonic transport plane.

In urging a 12th Cabinet post, Johnson said "America today lacks a coordinate transportation system that permits travelers and goods to move conveniently and efficiently from one means of transportation to another, using the best characteristics of each."

He proposed the development of such a coordinated system as a principal assignment for the new department.

In the area of highway safety, Johnson proposed mandatory authority for setting up federal standards if voluntary methods fail.

Another proposal in that area was study of the feasibility of separate routes for trucks and automobiles.

And the President called for action to promote safety at sea, recalling recent disasters involving vessels not up to modern American specifications.

In the supersonic transport section of the message, Johnson proposed a scheduled that would provide for flight testing of a 2,000-mile-an-hour aircraft by 1970 and commercial production by 1974. He also called for jet plane noise reduction studies.

The President has indicated that he wants increased taxes on fuels used by general aviation, a new tax on air freight and a fuel tax so that operators on the inland waterway system would help pay some of the new program's costs.

Escapee Sentenced To Additional Term

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gary Evan Smith, 24, who escaped from the California Medical Facility at Vacaville last December and robbed a North Sacramento couple, has been sent back to prison for an added term of from five years to life.

Sacramento Superior Court Judge Albert H. Mundt sentenced Smith yesterday for escape and armed robbery. Smith was captured by FBI agents in Los Angeles.

Trapped Enemy Fiercely Fights Marine Sweep

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON, South Viet Nam — Two U. S. Marine companies ran into heavy fighting late today in their drive to clear Communist forces from a canal-laced peninsula 55 miles southeast of the North Vietnamese border.

The action flared up again after the Viet Cong shied from contact yesterday with the Leathernecks and Vietnamese troops hunting them down in the ricelands overlooking the South China Sea 12 miles southeast of the old imperial capital of Hue.

U. S. planes carried the brunt of the war against the Communists today.

Air Force B-52 bombers roared past slumbering Saigon before dawn to drop their 500- and 750-pound bombs on a suspected Viet Cong storage area near Bien Hoa, only 20 miles northeast of the capital.

Another flight of the eight-engine bombers from Guam pounded a Viet Cong troop concentration reported by intelligence in Phuoc Tuy Province, 55 miles east of Saigon.

Mechanical Trouble At I-J

The Independent-Journal was about two hours late reaching subscribers yesterday, as a result of pressroom mechanical difficulties.

General Mgr. Wishard A. Brown noted the delay was the first occasioned since mid-December.

Some subscribers, telephoning to inquire about their papers, through error in dialing or in dial equipment got a San Rafael tavern instead of the Independent-Journal, and received answers such as "Sacramento Bee," "we're busy, call back," etc. No such answers were given at the Independent-Journal, where the delay was explained to callers.

Atom Bombs Blown Apart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two nuclear bombs were blown apart by their conventional explosive charges when a U.S. B-52 bomber crashed near Palomares, Spain, Defense Department officials said today. But there was no nuclear explosion, a spokesman said.

The defense officials made their report after the State Department acknowledged today that some plutonium and uranium — elements of a nuclear bomb—were scattered over the ground around the crash scene.

The State Department's announcement was the first acknowledgement that some nuclear material was scattered in the crash 44 days ago.

A Pentagon official said four nuclear bombs were aboard the craft.

Gen. Hershey Appraises War Attitude

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, said today Americans don't like and don't understand the "distant dim" war in Viet Nam but "they like the prosperity" it generates.

Hershey, who in nearly a quarter century as head of the Selective Service System has directed the military draft of 13 million young men, said the general public doesn't understand the war in Viet Nam because: "It's distant, it's dim and it deals with people they're not familiar with."

SOFT LIFE

In an interview, Hershey, 72, criticized the tolerant attitude he said has developed toward those who deliberately break the law, said Americans may be leading too soft a life, again advocated universal military training and said he has no plans to retire.

Hershey said the Viet Nam situation is similar in some respects to the Korean war. "The public just never understood it like they did World War II," he said. "I think we've got some of the same problems now."

He isn't peeved by criticism of the draft, although he hastens to defend the system.

Only yesterday, after 30 Republican House members called for an immediate investigation of the draft, Hershey pledged his cooperation and said, "I have always understood that one of the functions of the Congress is to look into how well the laws they pass are being carried out."

He was philosophical about criticism from individuals. "You can't blame people for being uncomfortable when somebody's going to put an obligation on them — that's human nature," he said.

HITS DEBATE

He criticized, without mentioning names, the current debate over Viet Nam policy. "It's unfortunate anytime to leave the impression with other nations that there is weakness," he said. "Whenever there is confusion, the one looking at it tends to believe it indicates some weakness. Whenever you lack unity, you lack strength," he said.

In calling for unity, he said it is vital "to keep our youth believing in our country."

Did The Russians Contaminate Venus?

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The life we discover on Venus some day may turn out to be our own.

Some Western scientists, at any rate, are afraid the Russians planted earthly microbes on Venus when they hit that planet yesterday with a 2,000-pound spacecraft.

If they did, and the microbes flourish, mankind may have lost forever its chance of finding out whether life independent of earth's ever developed in the Venusian environment.

The Western fears may be groundless. Soviet scientists at many an international space conference have shown themselves to be as concerned as others about the possibility of contaminating other heavenly bodies.

Soviet politicians, however, may not share that concern—or, at least, they may put a higher price on the propaganda value of getting somewhere first than they do on the scientific value of preserving a planet's biological purity.

Much depends on whether Soviet spacecraft confirm U.S. indications that Venus is too hot to sustain life. America's Mariner 2, which sailed past Venus in 1962, reported radio findings that the planet's surface temperature might be around 800 degrees, higher than the melting point of zinc.

If Venus is that hot, it doesn't make any difference whether the spacecraft that hit it was sterile when it left earth. It was thoroughly serilized the moment it crashed.

New Half Dollars Are Due With Only 40 Pct. Silver

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those new half dollars — only 40 per cent silver but still bearing the likeness of President John F. Kennedy — are expected to begin flowing into American hands within the next two weeks.

"We're trying to get them out as soon as possible," Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said today. "We hope to begin circulating them in about a week or two."

Wallace, whose jurisdiction includes the U. S. Mint, is hopeful the new coins won't wind up the same way as the Kennedy half dollars containing 90 per cent silver which the Treasury began minting in 1964. In fact, he hopes the new halves will bring the older ones out of hiding.

Through last Monday, 409,085,450 of the original Kennedy half dollars had been minted but despite efforts of the Federal Reserve System to place them in circulation they have virtually disappeared.

Why?

Only theories can be advanced, Wallace said, and the best one is that they've become mementoes of the late president. Many — exact numbers are unknown — have gone overseas, he added.

Wallace said this is an emotional rather than a rational response.

The Kennedy half dollar will be the "coin of the realm" for at least 25 years, he said. Existing law bars any change in coin design for at least 25 years and then only by an act of Congress.

Coward On Mend

Castro Jails Former Aides For CIA Ties

HAVANA (AP) — Two Cuban Army men, one of whom played a key role in Fidel Castro's rise to power, have been arrested on charges of counter-revolutionary activities for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

The Interior Ministry announced last night that Dr. Rolando Cubela and Ramon Guin, both former majors, had been arrested for "actions which seriously involve them in counter-revolutionary activities" with the CIA.

Cubela, a physician, has been director of Havana's Fajardo Hospital. Before the overthrow of Fulgencio Batista's regime, he was a commander of Castro's guerrilla forces in the Escambray Mountains.

After Castro took over, he became first president of the Federation of University Students at Havana University.

There was no information on Guin.

Rescue Radio Law Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sen. Jack Schrade, R-San Diego, has come up with what he figures is a good method to let injured drivers summon help:

Require all motorists to install two-way radios in their vehicles, at a cost of about $7, for use on the citizen's band frequency.

The resolution he introduced yesterday calls for a legislative study of the matter, and of equipping police cars with walkie-talkies.

Astronaut Plans Power Tool Use

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—When astronaut David R. Scott leaves the Gemini 8 capsule for a stroll in space in mid-March, he will use a power tool that may qualify him as the first space mechanic.

Scott, an Air Force major, will work with the device for only about 10 minutes of his planned two and one-half hour excursion. But the nuts and bolts experiment will help develop tool kits for future astronauts.

Details of the experiment were disclosed today at a conference on space maintenance and extravehicular activity — space walks.

Scott and civilian Neil A. Armstrong are to ride Gemini 8 up for a three-day trip on March 15. During the first day, they are to chase and link up with an orbiting Agena satellite.

Scott is to take his record space walk on the second day.

Shortly after leaving the capsule more than 100 miles above the earth, Scott — at the end of a 25-foot tether — will work his way along the side of the spacecraft with the help of handrails.

He will open a compartment, in which is stored the power tool, with a regular hand wrench and a metal plate fastened with four bolts. The power tool superficially resembles the electrically operated devices that mechanics use to remove lugs when changing an automobile tire. But inside it has the complexity of a James Bond device.

It weighs about eight pounds but like Scott, will be weightless in space. It is 10½ inches long and 9 inches high and is powered by batteries.

A man using a normal wrench in weightless space would spin like a top because of the reverse action created from force exerted in twisting on a bolt.

The power tool, designed by the Martin Co. for the Air Force Aeropropulsion Laboratory, has 99.5 per cent less reactive force than a comparable power wrench used on earth.

This has been done through an arrangement of bearings, rings and gears, plus a counter-rotating barrel. The result is that the reaction is transferred back to the bolt being tightened rather than to the astronaut.

Before opening the compartment, Scott will use a hook-like device to attach his right knee to a spacecraft hand rail. Then he will use the power tool to loosen the four bolts in the metal plate.

He will turn the plate over and tighten the bolts, one of which is instrumented to record the amount of force used. He will repeat the exercise, using the regular wrench. Then he will do it again after releasing his knee from the fastened position.

Without the knee anchored, Scott should spin slightly while using the regular tool. If so, he will stop before he becomes disoriented.

To record his actions, Scott will mount a movie camera on the side of the spacecraft.

Fairfax Trustees See Tax Boost As Likely

The Fairfax School District Board last night set for March 15 a public hearing on next year's school budget, which may call for an increase in district taxes.

The educational program planned for the coming year calls for nearly $25,000 beyond that raised by the current tax rates, according to Supt. Homer Sisk.

Sisk informed the board the district has received approval from the State Board of Education of a $20,464 program to improve the reading and mathematics of underprivileged children. Sisk said that students have already been assigned to classes.

The board instructed Sisk to explore the possibility of a shorter-term transportation contract than the present five-year term with Patchett and Co., which expires June 17. Patchett and Co. charges the district $50 a day for one bus, which carries 370 students in all to and from school.

The board authorized payment of $930 to the City of Fairfax as the district's share of the city's recreation program costs.

Sisk advised the board that Helen Hough, Central School teacher, would take a sabbatical leave next school year to study Spanish and Spanish culture in Spain and Mexico.

Stiffer Arson Penalty Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Tougher penalties for arson and assaults on firemen moved closer to approval today as the legislature took its first step to prevent a recurrence of last summer's rioting in Los Angeles Negro districts.

But the Negro assemblyman who represents part of the area protested that the penalty bills are "unnecessary and discriminatory."

"I have not yet seen any legislation to cure the ills that brought about Watts," said Assemblyman Mervyn M. Dymally, D-Los Angles.

Backed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown and the result of a legislative investigation, the measures cleared the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee yesterday. They now await a vote on the Assembly floor.

Woman Rescued After Police Pry Open Doors

Three doors were forced open today by Sausalito police to rescue a woman locked in her bathroom.

Eloise Le June of 15 Second Street, Apt. F, called police at 10:45 a.m. saying she heard cries of "help" from a nearby apartment but couldn't determine which one. The apartment manager was not about.

Sgt. Howard Goerndt and Officer Tom Zink responded, heard the cries and thought they came from apartment C, the apartment of Eina Anderson. They forced the front door but found no one.

They then went onto the roof, listened for the calls and thought they were coming from apartment B. Forcing the door, they again found no one but heard cries from the bathroom. The lock on this door was broken and so they broke the third door and released Mrs. Adawa Williams, who said she had been locked in since 7:30 a.m.

"Thank God!" she said.

WAR

U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers flew 34 missions against North Viet Nam, relying mostly on radar to lead them to an assortment of bridges, roads and storage areas between the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone and the Vinh area.

The U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division dropped a unit by helicopter in a mountainous area five miles southeast of Bong Son in a continuing sweep near the coast 300 miles northeast of Saigon. Six Viet Cong were reported killed in sporadic skirmishes.

The Communists twice tried ambushes against South Vietnamese troops yesterday in the central highlands near Pleiku, 235 miles northeast of Saigon, but a government spokesman said the attacks backfired. He said the Communists left behind 50 dead and 25 weapons and inflicted only "very light" government casualties.

The American troop commitment in South Viet Nam—now more than 205,000—is expected to reach about 350,000 by the end of this year.

That was the estimate provided today by diplomatic representatives of nations supporting the United States in the war in Viet Nam.

The armed forces increased their strength by 52,834 men during January to a total of 2,899,724 in uniform, the Defense Department reported today from Washington.

The goal of the present military buildup is a combined strength of 3,093,000. The January draft was 38,280 men.

Nearly half of the January gain was in the Army, which added 24,616 men to reach a strength of 1,099,812. The Navy increased from 725,394 to 733,066, the Marine Corps from 214,541 to 226,961, and the Air Force from 831,759 to 839,885.

COURT

pay half the costs. "Our clients are residents of Sausalito," he said.

Ordinarily City Atty. Leland H. Jordan would represent the city in any legal action, but in this case he may not.

Jordan is a law partner of E. Warren McGuire, who represents Frouge Corp., developer of Marincello. "It appears that this will place us in a difficult position," Jordan said.

The council then agreed that if Jordan bows out, attorneys Robert I. Conn and Breiner will be employed as special counsel for the rezoning challenge.

Councilman Melvin S. Wax said legal action would have to be taken this week to halt a planning commission hearing on Marincello Monday.

The council authorized spending up to $1,000 for legal fees, with the understanding that if costs go beyond $1,000 it will consider further expenditures.

If supervisors should rescind the rezoning, the Marincello site would revert to interim residential and agricultural zoning.

The council was scheduled to discuss whether the city would join the Marin Assn. for Planning in a suit challenging the legality of all Marin County's planned community zoning. They postponed this discussion until their next meeting, March 15.

McGuire, attorney for Frouge Corp., today termed the city council action "another move in the continual harassment of the Marincello development by this group."

"In addition to public notice given by the county clerk," said McGuire, "the people of Marin were well informed of the numerous hearings and the proposed actions by the county planning commission and the board of supervisors. In the history of Marin County, there has never been a project which has had more ample notice and coverage by all of the communications media. . . .

"To say that public notice was not given to the people of Marin in connection with the rezoning is absurd."

Murder Suspect Will Stand Trial

J. D. Jones, 30, was returned to county jail yesterday from Atascadero State Hospital after being declared sane and able to stand trial in Marin Superior Court for the Oct. 20, 1964, hammer murder of his ex-wife, Mary L. Jones.

Jones, of 79 Cole Drive, Marin City, allegedly battered the victim to death following an argument over custody of their son, 3-year-old James Davis Jones Jr. Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court ordered him to Atascadero hospital last March 29 for an indeterminate period after findings that he was incapable of conducting his defense in trial.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said trial date will be set within a few days.

District Annex Is Approved

An 11-square mile annexation east and south of Marshall to the North Marin County Water District was approved by the district board last night.

The area is part of the 42 square miles earlier proposed for annexation in the Tomales-Marshall area.

The annexation will go before the Local Agency Formation Commission at its April meeting, said Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

He said 85 per cent of those in the 11-square mile area favored annexation. The Tomales area, on the other hand, had a majority against annexation, he said.

Tam Senior Is Named Best Speaker

David Scott Griffeath, Tamalpais High School senior, was winning speaker in last night's Mill Valley Lions Club speakers contest at the municipal golf clubhouse.

Griffeath competed in an earlier contest sponsored by the Sausalito Lions Club and lost. He was awarded a $600 scholarship Feb. 24 at an Engineers Week banquet in San Francisco.

Other contestants last night were Coulter Adams of Sausalito, Tamalpais High School, Rita Lago of San Anselmo and Robert Smith of Larkspur, both Marin Catholic High School students.

Judges were J. W. McGlynn, Rev. Gordon Foster and Dr. R. B. Hartman, all of Mill Valley.

Zonal run-off will be held at 7:30 p.m., March 14, at the Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito, according to speech contest chairman Jim Canepa.

PETITIONS

uron. They have a daughter, Candice, 10.

Also taking out a petition for candidacy—in a race which already has two candidates for Marin Municipal Water District 3—was Herber C. Leney, 58, of 318 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera.

Leney, a retired attorney, will run against George W. Thierbach, incumbent of 128 Hill Path, Corte Madera, and Allan James Creighton, a safety engineer of 56 Bella Vista Avenue, San Anselmo.

A retired Army lieutenant colonel, Laney has a master's degree in law. He saw military service in the Pacific during World War II and in Europe in the Judge Advocate General's Corps.

Leney is president of the Redwood High School Parent-Teachern Assn. and Mariner Cove Improvement Assn., a director of Corte Madera Sanitary District, and on the advisory board of the Tamalpais Savings and Loan Assn.

He and his wife, Virginia, have two sons, Herber Jr., and John E. Leney.

Five petitions for Republican Central Committee posts and three for Democratic Central Committee posts were also taken out since noon yesterday.

Seeking office in the Republican Central Committee, third district, are David Burton Allison, incumbent, utility employee of 44 Ralston Avenue, Mill Valley; Adolph F. Zang Jr., management sciences engineer of 845 ast Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, and James Percy Stuart, 49, appraiser of 100 South Street, Sausalito.

Joie Brewster Hubbert, of 29 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, is running for re-election to Democratic Central Committee, district 3. He is a market researcher.

Oakland Elects Next Mayor

OAKLAND (UPI) — John H. Reading was elected mayor of Oakland last night by a City Council vote of 5-3.

Reading, 48, is a Republican and member of the council He will succeed John C. Houlihan, who recently announced his resignation as of April 30.

Reading will serve as mayor until the next general election in the spring of 1967. At that time, the voters will name the man to serve the remaining two years of Houlihan's unexpired time.

VFW Disclaims Racing Letter

Ralph Eckhardt, commander of the Donald V. Westlund Post 7816, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in Novato, today said his organization had nothing to do with a letter to the editor, which appeared in the Independent-Journal yesterday headed "No Harm in Racing."

The letter was written by Stanley C. Rakeman, quartermaster of Post 58, VFW, San Francisco. Rakeman lives in Novato but is not a member of the Novato post.

DEBATE

supported of unification of Tamalpais High School District with man of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee joined the hard core of presidential policy critics backing the Morse move.

The House whisked the military supply measure through by a 392-4 vote. In the opposition were four Democrats, representatives Philip Burton and George E. Brown Jr. of California, William F. Ryan of New York and John Conyers Jr. of Michigan.

Then the Senate wound up 15 days of debate by slapping down the Morse proposal. Joining Fulbright and Morse were senators Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., and Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

The Senate's 32 Republicans voted solidly against the Morse proposal in an action Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen depicted as registering party opposition to the "Morse viewpoint."

Gruening offered an amendment to prohibit the use of draftees in Viet Nam, unless they chose to fight there. It was chopped down by a 94-2 vote, with only Morse supporting Gruening.

Gruening and Morse cast the only negative votes when the Senate passed the money measure 93-2. A compromise of minor Houses remained before the bill goes to the President.

Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat who earlier had proposed the neutralization of Southeast Asia and an accommodation with Communist China, said in an interview he decided "right at the end" to vote for the Morse proposal.

Fulbright said he regrets passage of the 1964 resolution hich he sponsored at the time. He added it as passed after the Tonkin Gulf attack "but now you have an entirely different set of circumstances."

House Republican leaders, in a statement today, said:

"In an effort to please the conflicting elements in the Democratic party, the administration has had to dodge and shift. Its policy and position on Viet Nam continues to be marred by indecision, sudden change and frequent reinterpretation.

"Under the circumstances it is little wonder that the enemy has been encouraged, our friends dismayed. . . ."

In their statement the Republicans said that while Vice President Hubert Humphrey was denouncing Sen. Robert Kennedy's proposal that the Viet Cong be included in peace negotiations, the President's press secretary, Bill Moyers, was saying it did not represent a position much different from the President's.

Novato Club Quits California Demo Council

The Novato Democratic Club has withdrawn from the California Democratic Council and set itself up independently under the name of "Democrats of North Marin."

Carpenter said the new organization would devote itself to local efforts such as precinct work, fund raising, and political education pertaining to issues and candidates.

Marin Skippers Named Pilots

Two Marin skippers were appointed yesterday as bar pilots for San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun bays.

They are Capt. Donald S. Grant of 35 Corte de Sabla, Greenbrae, and Capt. John B. Fowler of 42 Spindrift Passage, Corte Madera.

the 10 elementary districts it includes.

He established a "scholarship fund" with money from his own pocket and, on several occasions, made gifts to students to help them continue their education. He helped a Mill Valley girl graduate pay her college costs with a gift of $250 last year and $300 this year.

Thomas maintained his interest in the progress of foreign exchange students even after they returned home, and made frequent trips to Europe and elsewhere to visit them.

Eeach year, he collected the foreign exchange students in Marin County and took them on a visit to state government buildings in Sacramento, later entertaining them at dinner in San Francisco, all at his own expense.

Thomas was an attorney for the State Industrial Accident Commission and former commission secretary and referee for the State Compensation Insurance Fund. He had been admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court.

A graduate of the University of California in 1928, he served as a lecturer on the faculty there.

He was past president of the Christian Endeavor of Marin County and a past vice president of the Christian Endeavor of California. He was a life member of the Parent-Teacher Assn., and former member of the Marin County Republican Central Committee.

Thomas was an elder and a former trustee and deacon of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

An Army veteran of World War II, he was a member of Blackstone Post of the American Legion in San Francisco.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Dorothea Biagini of San Rafael, and a brother, Alex C. Thomas of San Anselmo.

Funeral will be Friday at 10 a.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo. Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Friends may call at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, until 9 a.m. Friday. The family prefers memorial contributions to the Student Loan Fund, San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

IRVIN REED

Irvin Reed of Oakland, father of two Marin women, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after a brief illness. He was 80.

Reed was president and manager of Pacific Coast Rubber Co. in San Francisco. He was a member of the Shrine and of the Mariners Club of California.

He leaves his wife, Marguerite; a son, Irvin John Reed of San Francisco, and the two daughters, Mrs. Priscilla Reed Dillingham of Ross and Sally Reed of San Rafael.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at N. Gray and Co., Divisadero and Post streets, San Francisco. The family prefers that tributes be contributions to the Heart Fund.

JAMES McKENZIE

Funeral for James McKenzie, 83, of 11 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo, will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

McKenzie, a retired engineer, died in a local hospital Monday after a short illness.

A native of Ontario, Canada, he lived in San Mateo County before coming to Marin eight months ago.

He was a member of the Laurel Lodge 13, Free and Accepted Masons, of Roseburg, Ore.

ANN HAZEN

Ann Hazen of 2205 Leese Lane, Novato, died in a local hospital yesterday after a long illness. She was 62.

Her husband, James A. Hazen, a weighman at Basalt Rock Co., Novato, died two years ago.

Mrs. Hazen is survived by a son, James W. Hazen and a daughter, Mrs. Marie Telegin, both of Novato; two brothers, John Kanihan of San Bruno and Alex Kanihan of South San Francisco; two sisters, Alice Kanihan of San Francisco and Mrs. Marie Papin of Vacaville.

Funeral will be held Friday at 1 p.m. at the Russian Molokan Church, San Francisco.

ADMIRAL MUNROE

LA JOLLA (AP) — Retired Vice Adm. William R. Munroe, a former naval aide to the administrations of Presidents Hoover and Franklin Roosevelt, died Tuesday at his home. He as 79.

Munroe as a pioneer submariner and held many major naval commands.

He was commander in chief of the allied forces in the south Atlantic late in World War II.

Survivors include his widow and a son.

MRS. ROTHSCHILD

Mrs. Ruth Benedict Rothschild, 73, a resident of Corte Madera for 12 years, died yesterday at a Petaluma hospital after a long illness.

She was a native of Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Rothschild resided in Marin County 29 years, living first in Mill Valley and recently in Corte Madera at 313 Oakdale Avenue.

She was active in Red Cross work for many years.

Mrs. Rothschild is survived by her husband, Arthur F. Rothschild, a retired employee of Yellow Cab Co. in San Francisco. Also surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Richard C. Varney of Mill Valley; a sister, Mrs. Helen E. Duncan of Hartford, Conn., and five grandchildren.

Private funeral will be held tomorrow at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Friends may call at the mortuary until 10 a.m. tomorrow. Inurnment will be private.

JOHN LOCKNANE

John William Locknane, longtime former resident of Marin County, died early today in a Mendocino hospital after a lengthy illness. He was 74.

A native of Oregon, he joined the Navy at 16 and saw service in World War I. Shortly after that war, he settled in Marin County.

He lived from 1934 to 1954 at Point Reyes Station, where he was foreman of the Cheda Garage. On retiring in 1954, he and his wife, Christine, moved to Albion, Mendocino County.

Besides his wife, Locknane is survived by a daughter, Christine I. Pepper of Bolinas; a stepson, Roland Cervelli of Fort Bragg, and a brother, Carl Locknane of Seattle.

Funeral will be held Saturday, at a time to be announced, at Cannarr - Fairlee Funeral Home, Fort Bragg.

BRUCE STEWART

Graveside funeral will be held for Bruce D. Stewart of Mill Valley tomorrow at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael. Friends may assemble at Russell and Gooch mortuary at 2 p.m., prior to leaving for the cemetery.

Stewart, 76, died in a local hospital Monday following a two-month illness. He was a dispensing optician for 40 years.

Stewart was born in Portland, Ore. He moved to southern California from Oregon, then to San Francisco about 20 years ago. He had resided in Mill Valley at 8 Eldridge Avenue for the past nine years.

He worked for the last 16 years for Jenkel-Davidson Optical Co. in its Post Street store in San Francisco, retiring about one month ago.

Stewart is survived by his wife, Pebble Stewart, and a brother, F. Howard Stewart of Palo Alto.

He was a member of Phi Chi high school fraternity, Portland, Ore.

CARDS OF THANKS

The recent loss of our beloved wife and mother has brought much sadness and emptiness to our home. Yet Kay's untimely death brought forth an outpouring of compassion from friends and neighbors that has astounded us, and has made our grief much easier to bear. We would like to thank the clergy, the many people who visited Kay, who recited the Rosary, and who attended the Requiem Mass. We will thank you all individually, but it might take a little time. Little Richard Joseph, whom Kay bore two days before her death, is doing very well, and we expect to have him home soon. May God bless each and every one of you.

A REAL DILEMMA, THIS

As if a big tree crashing into her late-model car wasn't headache enough before breakfast, Mrs. Ethel Sweeney of South Boston, Mass., today found insult added to injury—a parking ticket on the windshield. The tree was one of many felled by gusty New England winds last night. (AP Wirephoto)

McCarthy, Bagley Due At Peacock Gap Fete

Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley will be honored at a buffet dinner-dance tomorrow night at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Social hour starts at 7 p.m., with dinner at 8 p.m. Raymond Shone and Fred Enemark are co-chairmen for the event.

CRANSTON AIDE

State Controller Alan Cranston named Dan A. Kimball, former secretary of the navy, as statewide finance chairman of his re-election campaign.

YOUNG TO SPEAK

Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Napa and Solano, who seeks the state Senate seat held by Sent. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, will speak tomorrow night in Mill Valley as guest of the Sausalito and Mill Valley Democratic Clubs.

The joint meeting is set for 8 p.m. at the El Monte Club House, on El Monte Boulevard and Wisteria Way.

BENNETT INVITED

William M. Bennett of Kentfield, who seeks the Democratic nomination for attorney general, will be one of the featured speakers at Boalt Hall School of Law in Berkeley on March 11 and 12.

Gubernatorial hopeful Ronald Reagan and Norbert A. Schlei, who seeks the Democratic nomination for secretary of state, are other statewide candidates who will speak.

They will participate in the Walter Perry Johnson Institute on Law and Politics.

Reagan will deliver the keynote address at the opening session. Bennett will join a panel discussion Friday night on the lawyer's role in practical politics.

Synanon Leader Discusses DuBay

SANTA MONICA (AP) — "If Father DuBay were a socialist, and we felt socialistic tendenes were bad for Father DuBay, we would try to straighten him out," said the founder of Synanon House, where the suspended Catholic priest is taking up new duties.

"We don't have to fool around with that issue," added Charles Dederich. "Father DuBay tells me he is a registered Democrat."

Thus it was announced at a news conference yesterday that the controversial priest has become a counselor for narcotics addicts at the rehabilitation center.

Father DuBay who works at Synanon House as a "counselor and theologian," was suspended from the priesthood a week ago by James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Archbishop of Los Angeles.

Budget Session

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission will hold a budget session at 8 p.m. today at the Civic Center, planning the park program for the next fiscal year with new park and recreation director Pierre W. Joske. He arrived on the job yesterday.

Bolinas Lagoon Rezoning Delay Granted To July 5

Consideration of open area zoning for Bolinas Lagoon was again postponed by Marin County supervisors yesterday.

Decision was delayed after considerable discussion last August, to allow the Bolinas Harbor district to prepare a plan for the lagoon.

The plan was to be completed by yesterday, but Gene McDaniel, chairman of the harbor district board, told supervisors it was not yet ready. Supervisors rescheduled the matter for July 5.

There also are two applications for resort-commercial recreation zoning on the east shore of the lagoon, one covering the Bahia Baulinas lease from the harbor district and the other covering lands owned by Wilma Leonard and others.

The zoning debate was among several matters continued by the board yesterday. In many cases, discussion was put off until next Tuesday, when Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, ill with pneumonia, is expected back on the job. Both Storer and vacationing Supervisor Peter H. Behr were absent yesterday.

The board put off discussion of County Administrator Alan Bruce's proposal to disband the county civic defense office. Also put over was decision on a change in pay date for county employees that would mean they would pay for 13 months salary on 1966 income tax returns.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday also:

1. Adopted a policy setting charges for meals for visitors at the county fire department headquarters in Woodacre and reimbursing the department's mess hall fund for each meal eaten by a department cook while on duty. The fund has previously supported meals for visitors.
2. Postponed action until March 29 on Coroner Frank J. Keaton's request for a second assistant.
3. Postponed action on the protest of J. E. Kenney, who called unfair the planning commission's requirement for dedication of a 12-foot strip along Merrydale Road for street widening in connection with a permit granted him to expand the Dandy Market at Merrydale and El Prado Road.
4. Approved the final map of Equestrian Acres, a 14-lot subdivision on the south side of Atherton Avenue, east of Novato.
5. Approved a temporary reduction of staff in the building department due to a slowdown in building activity. An electrical inspector will be let go.
6. Approved hiring Abbot A. Hanks for testing of concrete, steel and masonry in the Hall of Justice at cost not to exceed $4,500, and contracted with consulting engineers Lee and Prazker for soils engineering for the Hall of Justice, not to exceed $18,000.
7. Granted an extension of sick leave to Philippa Denning-Kemp, interviewer in the health department who contracted infectious hepatitis Jan. 1.
8. Declared next week "Nursery Education Week" in Marin.
9. Adopted a resolution consolidating the Gallinas Village Community Services District with the June 7 primary.
10. Re-appointed Henry D. Eddy and Joseph B. Leach to the county's data processing technical advistory committee, and named Patterson B. Allen, Albert J. Schilling and Dr. John A. Starkweather as new members.
11. Adjourned at 4:30 p.m.

Drunken Drivers Hear Fines Set

Jair Rodrigues DeMedieros, 46, of 1017 Reichert Avenue, Novato, was given 60 days in county jail, fined $276 and placed on three years probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving with three prior convictions.

He was arrested on Novato Boulevard last Oct. 16 by Novato police.

John Patrick Kelly, 57, San Francisco, was fined $220 and placed on one year's probation, also for drunken driving. He was arrested on Jewell Street by San Rafael police on Feb. 14.

SAUSALITO SEEKING BEAUTY IN UTILITY

When it comes to selecting an architect for its corporation yard building at Nevada and Tomales streets, Sausalito goes first class.

City councilmen last night agreed to negotiate with architect Aaron Green of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, designer of the Marin County Hall of Justice, for the job.

Councilman Earl F. Dunphy voted against hiring an architect on grounds that the city's present plans for the building are adequate.

Councilman Melvin S. Wax said several prominent architects, including Green, expressed an interest in tackling the project. The architects apparently are interested in seeing if they can make a strictly utilitarian building pleasant, Wax said.

No Rush Is Predicted For Preserve Contracts

James Marshall of Tomales, president of the Marin County Farm Bureau, told county supervisors yesterday not to expect a rush of ranchers seeking agricultural preserve contracts.

His remark came after supervisors approved a map designating most of the county's rural area as land eligible for preserve contracts. Included were large ranch holdings next to population centers that are in production.

Marshall said the tax benefit would be slight for those ranchers far from urbanization. It is the value of potential subdivision or other development that the assessor can remove from land when the owner signs a 10-year pact to keep it in agricultural use.

William Strauss of Marshall urged the board to consider the plight of dairymen who might sign the agreement and then, through no fault of their own, lose their milk sales contracts. Distributors can cancel the contracts on 30 days notice.

Board Chairman Byron W. Leydecker said the risk of losing the contract was something owners would have to balance against the tax benefit from the agricultural agreement.

Supervisors approved four contracts, putting a total of 2,040 acres under 10-year contract. Owners are Mr. and Mrs. William T. Hall, with a dairy ranch on Point Reyes Peninsula; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Onslow-Ford, with wooded land south of Inverness; Mr. and Mrs. John G. Kelly, with 150 acres southeast of Nicasio, and Henry F. Tomasini and Florence E. Knecht, with 450 acres next to the Kelly ranch.

The board earlier approved a contract for George W. Wheelwright's Green Gulch Ranch in Southern Marin.

East Bay Widow's Estate Divided

OAKLAND (AP)—Some $2.5 million of Mrs. Florence Force's $5.5 million estate will go for taxes, a distribution ruling showed yesterday.

Judge S. Victor Wagler ordered the distribution in Alameda County Superior Court for the estate of the widow of Raymond C. Force, board chairman of Caterpillar Tractor Co. Force died in 1951 and his widow last July.

Mrs. Force's will left $1 million each to her sons, George H. Force of Piedmont and Raymond C. Force Jr. of Scottsdale, Ariz. The will left $500,000 each to two grandchildren, Mrs. Lila Jaeger of Piedmont and Mrs. Joan Burns of Columbia, Mo., both daughters of Mrs. Force's other child, Mrs. Lawrence Fletcher of Piedmont.

Meeting Changed

Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Protection District commissioners will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the firehouse at 27 Shell Road and will not meet Friday night, as regularly scheduled, since some commissioners have business commitments Friday.

Merchants In Novato Want Road Bypass

Novato merchants think the city should put in a bypass road while replacing the Warner Creek Bridge, rather than detour traffic during the four months the new bridge is under construction.

The detour, a group of merchants complained at a luncheon meeting of the Novato Chamber of Commerce executive committee yesterday, will cost the merchants more in lost business than the bypass would cost the city to build.

Lawrence A. Coleman, city director of public works, estimated cost of the bypass at $13,800 to $17,500. He set the tentative dates for closing South Novato Boulevard for the replacement job as from March 23 to July 8.

Harold McAfee, owner of McAfee's Department Store in the Nave Shopping Center, said he alone could lose that much in business.

Richard Nave, president of the chamber of commerce, said there are 30 businesses in the Novato Fair, Nave and Tresch Triangle shopping centers. "This represents well over a third of the businesses in the city and closing South Novato Boulevard will separate them," he declared.

Coleman recommended detouring traffic via Center Road and Diablo Avenue rather than constructing a bypass.

The city council in a special session last Friday night discussed whether to build the bypass or detour traffic. It adjourned the special meeting until 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Owners Of Arks Propose Franchise At Wharf Area

Marin County supervisors were somewhat puzzled yesterday over a proposed encroachment franchise which would allow some Waldo Point arks to remain over public, water-covered streets.

Last fall the board authorized the county counsel's office to take court action if necessary to clear the streets.

Yesterday a group of owners, represented by attorney David Gold, proposed a franchise for the Don Arques Wharf. Deputy County Counsel Joseph A. Forest said the franchise, if approved by the board, would not jeopardize the county's position.

Main purpose in the county crackdown was to assure that boats and arks would not have to be moved after they were connected with a proposed sewer.

Supervisors noted that plans for the sewer line, to be built by the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District, have not been completed and the costs to property owners are not yet known.

Discussion of the franchise proposal was put off until May 31, hoping the sewer proposal will be completed by then.

Old Sutro Baths Will Be Razed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sutro Baths, once the largest collection of indoor swimming pools in the world, is going to be torn down to make way for a housing complex.

Swimming stopped years ago in the seven tanks, one of which was 75 feet by 300 feet. Ice skating stopped Monday and co-owner Robert Fraser, a builder, says he hopes to start demolishing the building in April or May.

The baths were built 70 years ago.

Lucas Green On Agenda Again

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission tomorrow will decide whether to hold another hearing on the proposed Lucas Green annexation to San Rafael.

The commission meeting will begin at 7:30 a.m. at the Civic Center.

The annexation was turned down by the commission last month after hearing strong protest from the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District board and the Terra Linda Community Services District board. Both claimed that the loss of assessed value would hamper their operations and that the annexation was an attempt to increase commercial zoning.

Boundaries of the proposed annexation have since been revised.

SAFEWAY (S) BRANDS

What are they? Why do they sell for less?

Our Safeway ad usually includes a lot of brands which are sold in almost every food store. But this week, our biggest specials are on brands you can buy only at Safeway. We call them Safeway (S) Brands and each carries the famous (S) mark right on its label.

It's a family of top quality products. Several of them may be old friends to you: Lucerne, Bel-air, Mrs. Wright's and Town House. And there are many others we want you to meet. (That's the reason for this big sale!)

Some Safeway (S) Brands we manufacture ourselves; others are made for us by the most responsible manufacturers in the country. All are made under rigid quality specifications. All carry Safeway's Money Back Guarantee. We sell them for less because they cost us less. It's as simple as that!

DECEPTIVE PEACE IN GHANA

Little children play around the toppled statue of deposed President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana in the capital, Akkra, Monday. Meanwhile, Nkrumah left Moscow today after a 24-hour visit, for an unknown destination. The new Akkra government deported about 130 Russian technicians and their families, and reportedly was also ready to oust a number of Communist China personnel. (UPI Cablephoto)

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Thomas W. Braden, president of the state Board of Education, has accepted chairmanship of the California Committee for National Liberty Week, April 17-23.

Wolden Aide Testifies On Bribery Workings

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Some $42,000 in gifts resulted in a reduction in property valuations of $4 million, a witness testified yesterday at the bribery trial of San Francisco Assessor Russell L. Wolden.

On the stand in Superior Court as Max J. Newstat, Wolden's assistant for 27 years.

Wolden is charged with bribery — accepting money to reduce assessed valuations and thereby taxes.

The tax loss to the city from special treatment given eight firms came to about $350,000, according to Newstat's figures.

Newstat said that in 1964 he collected $3,500 for Wolden from Paul Eckley, a Chicago tax consultant whose client was Minneapolis-Honeyell Regulator Co., and that the firm's assessed value had been cut by $671,854 during the past six years.

The assistant also said he usually brought Wolden $3,000 a year from Carl Vogel, another Chicago tax consultant, whose clients are Graybar Electric Co., John Sexton & Co., Philco Distributors Inc., and Philco Corp.

He listed cuts in assessed valuation of $593,733 for Graybar, $372,725 for Sexton, $193,360 for Philco Distributors, and $94,259 for Philco.

The assessment for Boothe Leasing Co., as trimmed simply by changing the figure from $585,299 to $385,299, Newstat continued. As soon as that was done, he added, he received $2,000 from Alex Clark, another tax consultant.

Clark, another Chicago consultant, also represented Cleveland Twist Drill Co., which Newstat said received a cut of $74,153.

Pacific Metals Co., Newstat said, got a cut of $636,015 during three years it handled its own account and $1,630,115 during the three years it was represented by James C. Tooke, a Castro Valley consultant.

Drath Boosters Name Speakers

Everett C. McKeage of San Anselmo, former chairman of the California Public Utilities Commission, will be principal speaker at an organizational meeting of Marin Citizens for Phil Drath at 1:30 p.m. Sunday in the board of supervisors chamber at the Civic Center.

The meeting is to plan the Marin County phase of Drath's campaign for the Democratic nomination for Congress. The candidate will be among speakers.

Drath plans to stress the need for an immediate end to United States fighting in Viet Nam as the most important issue in the campaign.

United Arab Leader Visits Sacramento

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Capitol played host Tuesday to an important figure from abroad—Anwar El-Sadat, president of the National Assembly of the United Arab Republic.

He is heading a delegation of UAR officials touring the United States. At the invitation of Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh El-Sadat made a brief talk to the lower house. He also had lunch with Gov. Brown.

Youth Gets Jail Term For Collection Theft

George D. Beauchamp Jr., 22, was sentenced to six months in county jail and placed on three years probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for petty theft.

Beauchamp, of 865 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, took a coin and stamp collection from his father, CM/Sgt. George D. Beauchamp Sr., 48, of 542 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, in December.

Girl, Learning To Drive, Hits Youngsters, Kills One

Police Sergeant Thomas Culley said the driver, Madelin Forcina, 15, apparently panicked while rounding a corner and drove right onto the lawn at 133 Northgate Avenue.

Culley said Vicky Robbins and Deborah Kazas, who were talking on the sidewalk, fled in terror as the car came towards them. Vicky was crushed against a palm tree and killed, but Deborah was thrown clear of the palm and suffered only cuts and bruises on her hip and leg.

The sergeant said the car was going no faster than 10 or 15 miles per hour at the time of the crash. No charges were filed against either Miss Forcina or her mother, Grace, 48, pending further investigation.

English Cider Pork Pie Has All Meat Attached To Rib

LONDON (AP) — Meat pies are a British institution. In America the pie is mostly sweet. In Britain it is the savory pie that delights.

We have the English pork pie, the veal and ham pie, the chicken and bacon pie, the game pies such as partridge, woodcock, venison, hare or rabbit. And, of course, there's steak and kidney pie.

I choose pork pie. The English pork pie has inspired poetic rhapsodies in the past. My variation is a country dish known as Cider Pork Pie -- served hot.

FOR THIS spareribs of pork are used. They should be prepared English-style — called country-style in the United States — with all the meat attached to the rib. I suggest that you ask your butcher to bone the spareribs for you; if this is not within his province, it is quite possible to do the boning yourself. Of if he will undertake only part of the job, you can finish the boning at home. You will need 1½ pounds of the meat, weighed after boning.

My husband — who can't take steak and kidney pie and dislikes game pie, which I unfortunately like — thinks the Cider Pork Pie is delicious. That, coming from him, makes me feel safe in recommending it.

The pie can be served at picnics, for lunch with salad, for supper and for parties. Yes, even for dinners.

The great French gastronomist Brillat-Savarin once said: "A good die is excellent hot; but the test of a good pie is how does it eat cold?"

We're tried the leftover pie, straight from the refrigerator, the day after it was served hot. According to my husband, it tasted fine.

CIDER PORK PIE

Well-seasoned flour
2 tablespoons lard
½ pound cooking apples
1 large onion
1¼ cups sifted flour
Salt
5 tablespoons margarine
1 egg, separated
Sage and grated nutmeg
½ cup plus 2 tablespoons cider
1 chicken bouillon cube

Trim off any fat from meat and cut into small pieces. Roll the pieces in the well-seasoned flour, or shake together the meat and seasoned flour in a plastic bag.

Brown the meat in the lard for about 5 minutes, turning until sealed on all sides; reserve meat.

Peel and core apples and slice thinly into rings. Skin and thinly slice onion; separate into rings.

Make the short-crust pastry. Sift together the flour and a pinch of salt into a bowl. Add the margarine and rub in with the fingertips until mixture resembles fine bread crumbs. Mix to a stiff dough with a little cold water and the yolk of the egg. Turn out onto a floured board; roll out and cut into shape — but 1 inch larger — of the top of a deep 1½-quart casserole. Cut off a 1-inch strip of pastry from around the edge of the rolled-out shape.

Put half of the pork into the bottom of the 1½-quart casserole. Add a layer of half the apple and half the onion along with a pinch of sage and a little grated nutmeg. Repeat layers.

Heat the cider in a saucepan and dissolve the chicken bouillon cube in it. Pour cider mixture in the casserole.

Press the 1-inch strip of pastry around the top inner edge of the casserole; damped pastry strip with cold water. Put on pastry top; seal edge to pastry strip and flute. Cut a hole (an open vent) in the center of the pastry top for the steam to escape. Brush pastry with the white of the egg.

Bake in the center of a preheated 400-degree (hot) oven for 30 minutes; reduce heat to 350 degrees (moderate) and bake about 20 minutes longer. The entire baking time is about 50 minutes.

Tabasco Sauce Adds To Chili Con Carne

Get together a chili-loving crowd when you want to entertain both casually and economically.

Chili is simple to concoct. It needs nothing more as accompaniment than rice or crackers and a big salad. Fruit and cookies, after chili, always make a suitable dessert.

When we were trying this recipe for chili, a friend dropped in. "This is the kind I knew when I was growing up in Ohio," she said as she spied the canned tomatoes and tomato paste going into it. Yes, if you flavor chili rich with the color and flavor of tomatoes, this is your dish.

CHILI CON CARNE
FOR A CROWD

⅓ cup salad oil
5 medium onions, cut into thin strips
3 pounds ground beef
1 tablespoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon crumbled oregano
2 large cloves garlic, crushed
Chili powder
Tabasco sauce
2 cans (each 1 pound, 4 ozs.) tomatoes, undrained
1 can (6 ozs.) tomato paste
3 cans (each 1 pound, 4 ozs.) kidney beans, undrained

In an 8-quart kettle, heat the oil over low heat; add the onion and cook, stirring occasionally, until wilted but not brown. Add ground beef; sprinkle with salt, paprika, oregano, garlic, 2 tablespoons chili powder and ¾ teaspoon tabasco sauce. Over moderate heat, using a fork, break up and mash meat; cook until meat loses its red color. Add undrained tomatoes, (undiluted) tomato paste and enough chili powder and tabasco sauce to make as "hot" as you like; mix well. Cover and simmer about 45 minutes. Add kidney beans and mix in gently; taste and add more chili powder and tabasco if mixture is not hot enough. Simmer to heat beans—about 15 minutes. Makes 12 servings. (AP)

Six Delicious Ways To Put Sharp Edge On The Appetite

One of the delights and conceits of the complete hostess is the variety and individuality of her hors d'oeuvres. These bite size delights occupy a place of honor at receptions, cocktail parties or any gathering where drinks are served. They may be hot or cold and consist of anything that any group, at any period of history, considers edible. Their appearance is no more a clue to their content than a literal translation from the French of "hors d'oeuvres" (outof the regular meal preparation) is to their relative importance. These snacks are an addition to a meal to put a sharp edge on the appetite but not be filling. With such an infinite variety of foodstuffs from which to choose, there is no limit to what you can prepare if you use a little imagination and resourcefulness.

1. Do not use anything as a garnish that is not edible.
2. Use contrasting shapes, colors, and garnishes.
3. Use crystal, silver or wood trays to display your art and arrange them around a centerpiece.
4. Make them as close to serving time as possible to insure their freshness.

ANGELS ON HORSEBACK

One dozen fresh, plump oysters, 6 strips of bacon, 1 dozen rounds of white bread, butter, paprika, shallot, parsley, lemon juice.

Trim and clean but do not wash, 1 dozen oysters; half-cook 6 strips of bacon, then cut them in two, crosswise; fry 1 dozen small rounds of white bread in butter until golden brown on both sides. Place 1 oyster on a piece of bacon; season with a little paprika and a little finely chopped shallot and parsley; add a few tears of lemon juice and roll tightly, securing the bacon with a couple of wooden toothpicks. Place the prepared angels on a pie plate or small baking sheet and grill under the flame of the broiling oven, having the pan about 6 inches from the gentle flame, broiling just long enough to crisp the bacon, and turning the angels twice during the broiling process. Further broiling would toughen the oysters. Dress the angels on the hot fried round of bread. Remove toothpicks carefully, without damaging the angels, and serve at once as hot as possible the angels dressed on a hot platter in crown fashion, filling the center with a cleaned bunch of crisp, green watercress.

CUCUMBERS, DANISH STYLE

Concombres a la danoise

2 small cucumbers; 3½ oz. boiled salmon; 2½ oz. marinated herring; 1 hardboiled egg; 1 oz. butter; 1 tbsp. thick cream; horseradish.

Pound the salmon with the butter, pass through a coarse sieve, make into a puree with the butter and the cream and season well. Dice the herring and the egg finely, mix with the puree and add a few drops of vinegar. Peel the cucumbers, cut in 1 inch lengths, scoop out the center and marinate the inside for a little while. Turn upside down, drain, fill with a mound of salmon puree and sprinkle top with grated horseradish.

TOMATOES BALTIC STYLE

Tomatoes a la baltique

3 medium-size tomatoes; 2 small pickled herring fillets; 2 small potatoes boiled in their jackets and peeled; 1 small pickled cucumber; 1 rennet apple; 1 pickled gherkin; 3-4 tbsps. mayonnaise.

Cut the tomatoes in half lengthwise, scoop out and season with salt, vinegar and pepper ½ hour before use. Dice herring fillets, potatoes and apple. Peel pickled cucumber, cut in half lengthwise and one half in thin round slices. Dice the rest and mix it with the herring fillets, potatoes and apple and some well-seasoned mayonnaise. Fill this stuffing into the tomatoes, which have been turned upside down and allowed to drain beforehand. Decorate with the slices of pickled cucumber overlapping each other and place a round piece of gherkin in the center.

SMOKED SALMON ROLLS WITH ASPARAGUS TIPS

Roulades de saumon fume aux pointes d'asperges

Cut the smoked salmon into very thin slices. Marinate white asparagus tips with pepper, oil and lemon juice for 1 hour. Drain well, and roll two asparagus tips in each slice of smoked salmon. Decorate each roll with a small slice of truffle. Arrange the rolls on a suitable dish, and garnish with half hardboiled eggs and aspic jelly.

FILLETS OF SMOKED HERRING RUSSIAN STYLE

Filets de harengs saurs a la russe

Dip the herrings into boiling water to remove the skins. Remove the fillets and cut them into long strips. Dice the apples, and mix them with the finely chopped onion. Arrange the apples on one or two oval hors d'oeuvre dishes. Garnish with the herring strips in a checked pattern. Season with pepper and springle first with the white wine and then with the olive oil.

ANCHOVY STICKS

Allumettes aux anchois

7 oz. puff paste; 16 anchovy fillets in oil; chopped hardboiled egg; chopped parsley. Baking time: 10-12 minutes.

Roll out puff paste in a strip less than ¼ inch thick and from 3 to 3¼ inches wide. Turn the anchovy fillets in chopped hardboiled egg and chopped parsley. Place one fillet at the edge of the strip, roll it in the puff paste, making a complete turn, and cut it off. Wet the edge of the paste so as to make it stick together. Cut one end of each strip in shape of a fish tail and the other on a slant. Place the sticks on a baking sheet sprinkled with a few drops of cold water, brush with egg, and bake in a hot oven. Serve at once on a napkin.

Fruited Pork Chops Easy To Prepare—

Double thick pork chops smothered in onions and tart apples and topped with a slice of tangy pineapple will prove to be one of your family's favorite casseroles.

This hearty Fruited Pork Chop casserole can be made ahead of time and baked the hour before dinner. Or, set the automatic control of your oven and go off to enjoy your bridge game or shopping.

Home economists suggest preparing this tasty casserole in an enameled porcelain-on-steel casserole that has a gay decoration. This way it can go from the oven to the table with a minimum of cleaning after dinner. Just a little soaking in warm sudsy water will return the casserole to its sparkling finish.

FRUITED PORK CHOPS
(serves 4)

4 double thick pork chops
4 slices apple
4 slices onion
salt
pepper
4 slices pineapple

Brown pork chops on both sides in casserole. Top with apple, onion and seasonings. Cover casseroles and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until done. Remove from oven and top with pineapple slice. Bake 15 minutes or until pineapple is tipped with brown.

Education Board Angling For Land

In a three hour closed meeting last night, the San Rafael Board of Education agreed to condemn a piece of land for a school site, talked about renewing the contracts of the two assistant superintendents and picked seven architects to compete for design of a new elementary school at Peacock Gap.

Supt. Bert C. Corona declined to identify the piece of land involved, but said deputy county counsel Richard Godino, who attended the session, was instructed to draw up needed resolutions for passage at next Tuesday's regular meeting.

Contracts of assistant superintendent Mitchell L. Voydat and William C. Jordan, said Corona, probably will not be acted upon until the board approves the entire list of teachers to be rehired for the next school year.

This will probably come up at the March 22 meeting, he said.

Board members decided to ask seven architectural firms, including two from San Rafael, to submit rough plans for the Peacock Gap school.

San Rafael firms selected were Crawford and Banning and Gromme and Priestley. Others, all from San Francisco, were Callister and Rosse, Corwin Booth, Haines-Tatarian and Associates, Marshall and Bowles and Rockwell and Banwell.

Corte Madera Post Office Bids Are Delayed Again

Resistance by the Corte Madera Town Council to a "cheaply constructed" post office has delayed opening of bids to provide the post office department with a site and building.

Deadline for submitting bids, already postponed once, was put back from yesterday to March 18 so bidders could examine a change in the specifications.

The change, according to Morris Murphy of the department's regional real estate office, came after the town council insisted the building design should be in keeping with that of the town's new public safety building and remodeled town hall, as well as the Marin Municipal Water District building.

The government hopes to lease a privately constructed building for 10 years, with an option to renew for 20 more years after that. Bidders may include owners of new buildings, ones they are willing to remodel, or owners of land on which they will build a structure for the post office.

Escapee Slated For Return Soon To San Quentin

BOSTON (AP) — Donald S. Heien, 28, will leave Friday for California to resume serving a life sentence in San Quentin Prison, authorities said today.

Heien, who escaped from San Quentin in May, 1964, was arrested by the FBI last month in Brookline where he was living with his wife, Joann, 28, and their infant twin son and daughter.

Heien's wife was unaware that he was a fugitive. He had been working as a presser in a Newton cleaning establishment.

Heien was convicted of murder and sentenced to life in 1956 in connection with the robbery and slaying of a service station operator.

Marin Estates Owners To Hear Town Official

Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher will be principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Marin Estates Home Owners Assn. Thursday at 8 p.m. in the community room of Granada School.

At the same meeting, movies taken early in the development of Marin Estates will be shown and directors to lead the organization this year will be elected. President Holmes S. Norville will review the association's activities of last year.

Yachtsman Saved On Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Vallejo man was rescued from San Pablo Bay by Coast Guard helicopter today after clinging to his partially submerged cabin cruiser overnight.

George W. Knight, owner and operator of the 28-foot boat, had left San Francisco at 11 a.m. yesterday and was due at the Vallejo marina at 4 p.m. He was reported missing at 7:15 p.m. A surface check of harbors brought no trace of him.

A helicopter spotted the boat and Knight at 7:30 a.m. today off Mare Island. The helicopter crew pulled the shocked and dazed man aboard and took him to Public Health Hospital in San Francisco.

Terra Linda Officials Interview Candidates

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District last night interviewed a candidate for recreation director in closed session, but reached no decision, director Daniel C. Beittel reported.

Filling of the recreation director post, vacant since the resignation of William C. Gordon, will be discussed again by directors April 16, Dr. Beittel said.

School Plans Ordered By West Marin Board

West Marin School District Board authorized the district architects last night to start drawing working plans for additions and improvements to the school at Point Reyes Station which will be the subject of a $246,000 bond issue election April 19.

Supt. Howard F. Brose said members approved the preliminary drawings for the work, which includes three new classrooms, a library, a kindergarten, and reconstruction of the administration building, maintenance shop and bus shelter.

Sewer Line Design Authorized By Board

The Corte Madera Sanitary District board last night authorized Brown and Caldwell, engineers for the district, to begin designing the sewer line relocation scheduled for Paradise Drive in 1967.

This relocation will begin at El Camino Avenue, where this year's relocation down the center of Paradise Drive ended, and extend to Golden Hinde Passage.

Engineer Richard Aberley of Brown and Caldwell said today he does not know whether this line will also be placed down the center of the road. He said it will be placed 12 feet below ground.

The last line was lowered 15 feet. That relocation project brought complaints from Corte Madera residents and businessmen east of Highway 101 when the work caused the road to sink and crack.

Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said the town does not plan to widen or improve the section for a least a year, so plans of the district and town will not conflict.

The Corte Madera Sanitary District Board also:

1. Accepted as complete the sanitary system for unit two of the Paradise Key subdivision.

2. Referred a request of Roemer and Estes for septic tanks to serve nine lots in the Madera Park subdivision to William Desmond, chief county sanitarian, for investigation.

No Session

There was no meeting of the Marinwood park and recreation commission last night because of lack of a quorum. Another meeting date has not yet been set.

Park Discussion Put Off To May 31

Marin County supervisors yesterday put off until May 31 discussion of the state's proposed expansion of Tamalpais State Park.

Fred L. Jones, director of the state parks and recreation department, wrote supervisors to gettheir opinion of the proposal. The enlargement would take in all Marin Municipal Water District lands and extend the western park boundary down the slopes of Bolinas Ridge. It also includes taking Muir Woods National Monument into the state park system.

It takes 225,000 grains to make a pound of alfalfa seed.

New Weather Spy Working

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's newest weather satellite, ESSA 2, today successfully transmitted "good quality" pictures back to earth showing cloud formations over eastern and central United States.

It marked the successful completion of the first worldwide weather forecasting network.

A camera poking out the side of the hatbox-shaped spacecraft was turned on at 10:05 a.m. (EST) as the rapid-playback shutterbug satellite sped around the globe on its 25th orbit, slightly more than 48 hours after it rocketed into space from Cape Kennedy.

Where Does All That Money Come From For Teen-Agers?

By SALLY RYAN

NEW YORK (AP) —Doting parents and well-paying jobs are showering money on millions of American teen-agers.

The nation's 24 million teen-agers have an estimated $15 billion a year to spend. That works out to $625 apiece — $30 more than the per capita national income in 1940.

Not all teen-agers, though, share in this mountain of money from jobs and allowances. The federal government's last report showed 730,000 teen-agers, many of them uneducated and unskilled — without jobs.

Where does all of the money come from for the millions of others?

For 13-year-olds, allowances and snow-shoveling money from their parents. For 15-year-olds, babysitting and mowing lawns. For 18-year-olds, full-time, part-time or summer jobs

A NATION-WIDE Associated Press survey of teen-agers' income found allowances ranging from $1 to $20 a week. Girls' allowances and jobs are estimated to provide an average of $11 a week.

Boys have more to spend, padding their allowances with jobs after school and on weekends.

Marty Flynn, 16, of Kansas City, gets out of school one hour early and works 27 hours a week in a grocery store, stacking and delivering groceries. He makes about $30 a week.

"I got the job because I wanted to buy a guitar and amplifier," he said. "I have about $800 in it."

Marty makes a $5 payment each week on his amplifier and reserves $10 for going out. He tries to save $10, and spends the rest for gasoline and incidentals.

Don Rose, 17, of Encino, earns $6-$10 a week as a part-time salesman for a cooking ware firm, and saves about $300 a year. He says he wants to put it in stocks—or maybe an automobile.

PAM TIPTON, 17, a senior at Coral Gables High School in Florida, is a model. Pam earns $1.25 an hour modeling at a department store and receives $3 a week allowance from her parents to spend on clothes, cosmetics and school supplies.

Most girls in their midteens babysit.

Rommelle Witzke, 16, a junior at McClure High School near St. Louis, earns money by occasional babysitting and puts it into savings for college "and perhaps extra clothes that I really don't need but I want."

"I earn quite a bit babysitting, but it all goes for clothes and skiing," said Lynn Serafini, 17, of Denver.

Among the boys, the most common jobs include caddying and mowing lawns.

Dan Weber, 16, a junior at Mission High School in San Francisco, makes $24 a week caddying.

IN CORAL GABLES, Fla., Tom Thacker, 17, a high school senior, earns all of his spending money by mowing lawns on weekends. He banks $25-$30 a week for college.

Some teen-agers lean heavily on their parents for funds.

"I don't have much of a money problem because I have need for very few things," said Timothy Burns, 16, a junior at St. Mary's High School in Waltham, Mass. "My parents take care of most of them."

Coula Campbell, 13, of Atlanta., receives about $1 a week for magazines, candy and school supplies.

"My parents buy whatever else I need," Coula said.

Russell Gibe, 17, a senior at Maine South High School in Park Ridge, Il., a Chicago suburb, receives $5 a week from his parents.

"I spend it all on dates," he says.

"Teen-agers are not impressed with money as much as adults are," said Tania Amochaev, 16, a senior at San Francisco's Washington High School.

"We just want enough to spend," she said.

Many do not worry about spending money—or saving it.

"You either have money or you don't," Tania said. "You can't raise your future standard of living by saving $200 a year.

"Why should you save to go to college?" she asked. "You can live at home and go to a state college for practically nothing."

The same idea was expressed in Portland, Ore., which reports that teen-agers planning to go to local colleges are less prone to save than those who are going away.

EVEN THEN, parents may step in with financial help. Jermel Rocke, 18, a Wichita State University freshman, receives $5 a week allowance and earns $18 a week as a copy girl for The Wichita Eagle.

"I tried to save enough last semester to pay tuition this semester," Jermel says. "I didn't quite save enough, and of course my parents made up the difference."

Club Will Tour Sunset Garden

A chartered bus will leave at 10 a.m. from the club grounds, after the board meeting, which convenes at 9 a.m.

Joanne Marie Ehat Weds Charles Leyes

In a ceremony on Feb. 5 at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Carmel Valley, Joanne Marie Ehat of San Francisco, formerly of Fairfax, became thet bride of Charles Phillip Leyes. The double ring ceremony was performed at 2 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Prouty of San Francisco and Raphael Ehat of Daly City.

A reception followed the ceremony in Carmel.

The bride was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and San Francisco State College. She is the sister of Steve and Andrew Ehat of Daly City, Mrs. Patricia Trenholm of Santa Rosa and Edward Kelly of Fairfax.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leyes of Belmont, was graduated from the University of San Francisco.

The newlyweds will make their home in San Francisco.

Attends Meeting

Mrs. Stephen A. Duff of San Rafael attended the Women's Auxiliary to the International Chiropractors Assn. executive board meeting in Hollywood, last week. Mrs. Duff is one of 12 members from throughout the United States.

PRIMROSE TEA SET MARCH 16

The annual Primrose Tea of the Inverness Garden Club will be held this year on March 16 at Frick Hall, St. Columba's Church in Inverness. Primrose plants and homemade breads will be on sale during the 1 to 4 p.m. event.

Fashion Show To Highlight Federation

Marin County Federated Women's Clubs will join with federated clubs in San Francisco and San Mateo in attending the Golden Gate District, California Federation of Women's Clubs meeting March 14 in South San Francisco.

Mrs. Lloyd Cottrell, president of the South San Francisco Woman's Club will greet the presidents, district chairmen and members. The coffee hour is set for 9:30 a.m. and the call to order at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Arthur Luchetti of Corte Madera, first vice president and program chairman, will present the guest speaker, Mrs. Donald Thompson of Concord, state chairman of literature.

Special feature is a fashion show presented by Mrs. Beth Kessler of Corte Madera, craft chairman. Fashions made and modeled by club members in the district will be judged, and awards given in various categories including casuals, sports, afternoon and evening gowns.

Mrs. William Kasper, diamond jubilee chairman is urging club presidents to choose the member with the longest continuous membership in their club, also the member with the longest outstanding record of leadership in Federation to be honored at the diamond jubilee luncheon at the annual district convention April 12.

Marin County federated clubs participating are Corte Madera Women's Improvement Club, Mrs. Phillip Trau Jr., president; Mrs. Grace Stewart, Fairfax Woman's Club; Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club, Mrs. Mark Lott; Larkspur Women's Club, Mrs. Albert Heston, president; Marin Women's Legislative Council, Mrs. Paul A. Hammer, president; The Outdoor Art Club, Mrs. Carlton Banigan, president; San Rafael Improvement Club, Mrs. Charles L. Tacchi, president; Sausalito Woman's Club, Mrs. Conrad T. Kett, president.

Working Women Gain, Yet Lag On Advancement, Pay

By WILLIAM J. EATON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A leading spokesmen for American working women believes they have made unprecedented gains in recent years. But she also asserts there still are too many major problems hampering the female breadwinner.

That is the view of Mary Dublin Keyserling, $23,700-a-year director of the Labor Department's women's bureau, who has been earning a paycheck for most of her life.

Mrs. Keyserling is the wife of Leon Keyserling, former chairman of ex-President Harry S. Truman's Council of Economic Advisers. A trained economist, she taught the subject, headed the National Consumers' League and served as a government official from 1941 to 1952. Before taking over the women's bureau she was associate director of the Conference for Economic Progress where she worked with her husband.

TWO NEW LAWS and President Johnson's example in naming women to high-level government posts have changed the employment climate, she said in an interview.

Yet she ticked off these statistics to show that sex is still a factor in the paycheck:

Of 27 million working women—one out of every three American workers—the typical female earned only 59 cents for every $1 for the typical man in the labor force. The wage gap has been widening since World War II.

About one-third of the women who held full-time year-around jobs in 1964 earned less than $3,000. This compared with 11 per cent of employed men below the poverty-line. But 11 times as many men earned $10,000 or more a year.

More than five million working women are self-supporting —widowed, separated or divorced—and 6 million are single. Of the 14.5 million married women who work, about half have husbands who earned less than $5,000 a year.

"BARRIERS TO WOMEN'S employment opportunities are of serious moment and they remain high," Mrs. Keyserling said. She added that limited chances for training and the absence of child care facilities are factors in addition to employers' adverse attitudes.

"Remaining inequities with respect to access to jobs, to rates of pay and to opportunities for training and advancement are not only unjust, they are not good business," she declared. "This is bad for women and their families and it's bad for the economy."

Mrs. Keyserling believes the Equal Pay Act of 1963 and the Civil Rights Act of 1964 represent the most farreaching steps ever taken to eliminate the barriers.

The first law requires employers to pay equal wages to men and women doing equal work on jobs requiring equal skill, effort and responsibility. It applies to 29.5 million workers—men and women—and has even led to pay raises for men to equal higher rates paid to women under state minimum wage and overtime statutes.

MRS. KEYSERLING said there has been widespread compliance by employers with the law's demands and rulings that have resulted in pay boosts for many of the 8.5 million women affected.

But she believes the ban on discrimination in employment because of sex — contained in Title VII of the Civil Rights Act —is going to bring far greater gains.

A total of 551 complaints alleging discrimination on the basis of sex were filed during the first six months of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's life. Most of them charged bias in layoffs and seniority plans.

IN ALL BUT a handfull of cases, Mrs. Keyserling said, the commission has found businessmen willing to comply with the law voluntarily.

One major advance was a commission ruling against restrictions on employment of married women where there is no such restriction against married men. This benefitted —among other groups—stewardesses on several major airlines.

A federal government policy adoptedin mid-1962 requires U.S. agencies to make selections for appointments and promotions without regard to sex, except in unusual cases approved by the U.S. Civil Service Commission. A recent survey indicated that of 34,000 jobs filled, only 40 required a person of one sex or the other.

MRS. KEYSERLING also credited President Johnson with naming 120 women to top government jobs. And following his lead, she said, federal agencies have appointed 657 women and promoted about 2,300 others to posts paying $10,000 a year since early 1964.

"In the past three years unprecedented progress has been achieved with respect to improvement of national employment policies relating to working women," Mrs. Keyserling said.

MARY DUBLIN KEYSERLING as director of the U.S. Labor Department's Women's Bureau in Washington D. C., believes that American working women have made unprecedented gains in recent years, but asserts that there still are major problems hampering the female breadwinner. (UPI Telephoto)

Harassed Widow Warns Others On People Urging Fund Management

DEAR HELEN:

I recently lost my husband and this was crushing enough to sink me. I used to think the stories about widows being harassed by investment house salesmen and salespeople of all kinds were exaggerated, but no more. I had to get an unlisted phone so that I wouldn't be driven out of my mind by the calls from people wanting to cash in on my insurance and inheritance. One man in particular called me three times a day. He even wanted me to invest my entire insurance check in his "securities."

Thank heavens, I'm not an easy mark, but think of the many widows who, grief-stricken and not thinking straight, look on these "sympathetic" men as friends who will manage all their affairs.

Would another word of warning be appropriate in your column?—RECENT WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW:

New widows need all the warnings they can get from every source, and here's mine: Don't make snap decisions, especially on money matters. Don't sacrifice the house, the car, the belongings you shared, simply because — right now — you can't bear to own them, alone. Wait until the wound heals a little, and then seek the advice of your lawyer, your husband's executor or a friend with a good business head.

Never, but never, listen to the kind of "investment counselor" who intrudes on a widow in the first few weeks of her bereavement. He's more interested in your money than your future. You can rid yourself of these predatory characters with three words, "See my lawyer."

DEAR HELEN:

After having known a certain boy for some time, I was invited by him to meet his mother. When I got there it was a bachelor apartment. I waited and waited. His mother never came.

Well, Helen, he married me after some pressure from my parents. We have been happily married for a long time. So you can see that kind of marriage can work out. What's your opinion?—ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ONE:

My opinion (backed up by your putting a "boy" in a bachelor apartment) is that you're putting me on.

Not that girls don't get invited "home" to see mothers who aren't there—that's tactic number 3 in the wolf's manual. I just have a feeling it never happened to you. In case I'm wrong, many happy returns — to the apartment, now that it's legal.

DEAR HELEN:

Here's a warning about those telephone surveys. A friend of mine was called, told the questioner was making a survey for a national manufacturer and would she answer a few questions. Then he asked her if they owned a color television set, a vacuum sweeper, a power mower, and what model and year? She was cooperative. He asked to continue the survey at their home when her husband was there and she said "Not tonight, we won't be home." Which was not very smart. That night while they were away their house was broken into and among other things stolen were a color television set, a vacuum sweeper and a power mower, all practically new.

It would appear that thieves these days aren't content to take chances on the merchandise they steal—they check first to see whether it's good enough to be worth their effort.—CLAMMED UP

MRS. JAY SIMON

Active Marinite Is Selected By Camp Fire Girls

The Marin section of the Golden Gate Council of Camp Fire Girls has elected Mrs. Jay Simon of Corte Madera as their new chairman.

Mrs. Simon has been an adult guardian for four years and, as school coordinator, organized new Blue Bird groups at San Clemente for two years.

She and her husband, a home builder, are the parents of daughters Kay, 12; Alice, 10, and a son, Philip, 14, who is on a European tour with the Roger Johnsons of Greenbrae.

Mary Louise Simon was introduced to the Camp Fire as a Blue Bird in Corvallis, Ore. She and her husband both were graduated from Oregon State University.

She serves as rush recommendation chairman to the Marin Panhellenic board and has been active in the American Assn. of University Women since moving to Marin 15 years ago. Mary Louise is also vice president of San Clemente Parent-Teacher Assn. and a past vice president of Neil Cummins P-TA.

Mrs. Simon is an associate member of the Peter Pan chapter of Children's Home Society and a charter member and past president of Pixie Parents.

She and her family enjoy activities such as camping, canoeing with the Marin Canoe Club, swimming and hiking.

Mary Louise also fashions clothes for herself and her daughters. She and Jay especially enjoy finding and refinishing early American antique furniture with which they furnish their farmhouse.

Mothers-To-Be Classes To Begin In San Rafael

The Education for Childbirth program announces a nine-week series of classes for expectant mothers to begin tomorrow.

Sessions will be held from 1:30 to 3 p.m., and evening meetings will run from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Registered physical therapists, Mrs. Gunhild H. Brown and Mrs. Helen S. Weeks, will instruct the course at the offices of Mrs. Brown, 711 D Annex, San Rafael.

The expectant mother must have written permission from her physician in order to enroll in the series.

West Novato Group Will Meet Thursday

"How You Can Communicate With Your School" is the topic chosen for West Novato's fourth parent education meeting to be held at West Novato School tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Discussing the subject will be Mrs. Pat Conway, parent; Scott Wright, teacher at West Novato School and Donna Poninski, psychologist with the Novato Unified School District. The moderator will be Donald Wineland, principal of West Novato School.

The areas to be discussed will include "What Really Is Good Communication?" "How Do We Inhibit Successful Communication?" "How Do We Enhance It?" and "How Are Relationships Among Children, Parents, Teachers and Administrators Affected By Good Or Bad Communications?"

Unwrinkled Ties

Topic: What Woman Are You Maritally?

By BETTY FROST

Defining love as "So relating yourself to another person that you help him grow," Dr. J. Lyn Elder, professor of pastoral counseling at the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, Strawberry Point, spoke to 85 women Tuesday at the last lecture in the "What Woman Are You?" series at Westminster Presbyterian Church, Tiburon.

"What Woman Are You—Maritally?" was the topic of the concluding lecture in the series of six. Noting the difficulties of abstracting the role of wife from the many interrelated roles a woman assumes in her lifetime, Dr. Elder said, "Touch the web of interpersonal relationships anywhere and the whole web vibrates."

"A GOOD marriage relationship is one in which the husband and wife help meet each other's growth needs. Turning potentialities into actualities and using the creative force inherent in all living things to achieve creativity is the ultimate purpose of mankind seeking to glorify God, whose chief characteristic is creativity," said the professor.

The minister pointed out three qualifications for marriage partners to help achieve growth in the marriage relationship. 1. Be yourself a growing person. 2. Take seriously each other's growth needs. 3. Know how to acknowledge and reward growth developments.

He then characterized three kinds of wives. 1. Those who are unaware of their husband's growth needs and those who are aware but for reasons of their own frustrate this growth need. 3. Those who, through kindness, encouragement and, occasionally, constructive criticism, help their husbands to meet their growth needs.

SUGGESTING that marriage partners should not be overly preoccupied with sex, the speaker stated," both too much and too little can be made of it."

What kind of person you are will determine what kind of wife you are and affect your other interpersonal relationships, said Dr. Elder. Expanding on the quotation from John Donne, "No man is an island," Dr. Elder concluded, "We are all a part of the mainland of humanity."

The Rev. George Walker, minister of Westminster Presbyterian Church, said plans are now being formulated for another lecture series for women to begin in the fall.

Meets Tomorrow

The Sausalito Woman's Club will meet tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at the clubhouse.

Marin Chamber Trio Offers Free Concert

A chamber trio of Marin residents will present a free public program of renaissance and modern music Friday at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall at the College of Marin.

Performing will be lyric soprano Marian Marsh of San Rafael, oboist Carolyn Michaelian of Mill Valley, and pianist Larry Snyder of Larkspur.

The concert is part of the college's spring concert-lecture series.

Miss Marsh, a member of the San Francisco Opera Guild Talent Bank and twice regional winner of the Northern California Metropolitan Opera auditions, has appeared in College of Marin opera workshop productions and has been a frequent soloist with symphony ocrestras in the Bay Area.

Miss Michaelian has played with the San Francisco Pops Orchestra under Arthur Fiedler and was a soloist with the San Rafael Chamber Orchestra last year.

Snyder is a member of the College of Marin music department faculty.

The program will be divided into four parts. The trio will perform the first part, consisting of works by Purcell and Handel. In the second part Miss Marsh and Miss Michaelian will present a group of compositions by Vaughan Williams and one by Hindemith.

For part 3 Miss Marsh, accompanied by Snyder, will do songs by Poulenc and John Edmunds, a Bay Area composer.

Oysters Don't Thrill Board As State Fair Display Topic

County fair manager Marcelle B. McCoy and artist W. Kenneth Gaffney of Pope Valley, Sonoma County, proposed the exhibit.

"From a tourist attraction point of view, what do you see in an oyster situation?" asked chairman Byron W. Leydecker.

Mrs. McCoy said 300,000 Marin oysters are sold tourists each year, and the exhibit would allow Marin to enter the agricultural produce category in the fair competition.

"That's something we've never been able to do before," Mrs. McCoy said.

Gaffney, who is preparing the exhibit for $3,000 in county funds, said it would outline the history of oystering in Marin, a history that can be traced back to 1859.

"It dosen't appeal to me," supervisor William A. Gnoss said.

Mrs. Jean Barnard of Mill Valley said the most significant thing that has happened in Marin was that the Green Gulch Ranch became the first property to come under the agricultural preserve agreement. She suggested that be an exhibit subject.

Supervisors thought this might be hard to depict, and Mrs. McCoy said there was no category for conservation.

Finally, on supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen's suggestion, the board asked Gaffney to prepare an exhibit of Richardson Bay, showing boating, seaplanes and art exhibits.

"I think this is the most dramatic area of Marin," Kettenhofen said.

Mrs. McCoy was doubtful about the art exhibit angle, however, explaining that there is no "culture" category.

Backbone Mountain is in Maryland.

Chamber Orchestra Concert Set

Marin Chamber Orchestra's first concert of the season will be on March 13 at 4 p.m. in Alexander Hall at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Frances Wiener, who is concert mistress of the orchestra, which includes 38 string players, will be the violin soloist, conductor-director Hugh Rinaldi announced today.

Also to be soloist are soprano Marian Marsh, who was twice named regional winner in the Metropolitan Opera auditions, and baritone Byron Jones, who will be a soloist this year in the summer pops series of the San Francisco orchestra conducted by Arthur Fiedler.

Composers whose works will be performed are J. S. Bach, Charles Griffes, Arnold Schoenberg and Leonard Bernstein.

Marin Photographer Sets One-Man Show

Phil Palmer, Mill Valley photographer, will hold his first one-man show in several years next Tuesday through April 3 at the Toren Gallery, 30 West Portal Avenue, San Francisco.

Prints represent some personal, expressive work of the photographer, who has been best known previously for his work in books and magazines. Palmer teaches expressive photography at San Francisco State College's downtown center.

Inter-District Pact Continuation On Tap

Continuation of an inter-district agreement between Sausalito and Mill Valley school districts whereby whole classes of Mill Valley pupils attend school in Sausalito is expected to be discussed at a meeting of both boards at 8 p.m. Monday at Richardson Bay School Library, Sausalito.

A report will be made on progress of the program by committee chairman Henry Horowitz.

Both boards approved the program, which began last September with bussing of 117 pupils from Mill Valley to Sausalito in an effort to assist Sausalito District in its integration program. Sausalito School District trustees adopted a plan to desegregate the district's four schools following approval of the inter-district agreement.

Mill Valley School District trustees Monday night also:

1. Appointed Robert De Vilbiss, special teacher and assistant to the principal of Park School, as principal of the 1966 summer session.

2. Hired Mrs. Torcom Bedayan of Mill Valley as school nurse to replace Mrs. Carl Schmidt, who retired.

3. Adopted policies and bylaws for use of standardized texts, terms of advisory committee members and naming of the chairman as board spokesman.

4. Agreed that an old ranch house on the Tamalpais Valley School site constitutes an "eyesore" and will be demolished.

Bank Contest Honors Students

Four Terra Linda High School seniors received trophies and 11 others certificates of merit in the Bank of America achievement awards program.

Trophy winners were Bob Hempton, science and mathematics; Richard F. Honey, fine arts; John Hart, liberal arts, and Rhonda Brummett, vocational arts.

San Rafael High Students Named To Cabinet Jobs

San Rafael High School cabinet appointments for the spring semester have been announced by Ron Giomi, student body president.

Other new cabinet members are Rodney Holman, attorney general; Jeff Padgett, head of the Campus Improvement Assn.; Kenneth Giomi, assistant to Padgett; Sharon Dixon, elections director; Carol Graham and Lynn Reese, assistants to Miss Dixon;

Bonnie Kline, forums secretary; DeeDee Kirchner, press secretary; Erik Anderson, publicity director, and Pamela Woy, Linda Cardinal and Rodger Bockrath, assistants to Anderson.

San Rafael High Band Concert Set

The San Rafael High School Concert Band will present its "Winter Musicale" at 8 p.m. March 15 in the high school auditorium.

The San Rafael Chamber Choir, directed by Byron Jones, will participate in the program. The school band will be under direction of guest conductor Robert Lutt, director of bands at Berkeley High School.

The concert was originally scheduled for Feb. 24 but had to be postponed because of the flu epidemic.

U.S. Marines became known as "leathernecks" after 1805 when a thick leather collar was attached to the uniform for decoration, and to ward off strokes of an enemy sword.

Student Plays In Honor Band

Terra Linda High School senior Richard F. Honey Jr. of 880 Tamarack Drive, San Rafael, took part in the ninth annual state honor band festival at Pittsburg, Contra Costa County, last weekend.

Senior Jeff Greenberg of 16 Wellbrock Heights, San Rafael, was also selected for the honor but was unable to attend because he had influenza.

Seniors Win Honors

Five Tamalpais High School seniors have been named as eligible for a certificate of honors at entrance at University of California. Tom Adams, Don Jen and Larry Waterland are eligible at the Berkeley campus, while Pat Collins and Kathy Jenkins are eligible at Davis.

Farm Bureau To Meet

Model Of Civic Center Displayed In New York

The north end of the main hall at Marin Civic Center took on a bare look this week, as the colorful model portraying the building's ultimate appearance went on display yesterday in New York City.

The plastic-enclosed model is one of several exhibits in a display called "California Today and Tomorrow," to be shown through March 31 in the Palm Garden Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

With the blessings of the California Office of Tourism, the display is being sponsored by American Airlines, the Hilton hotel chain and E. I. DuPont de Nemours and Co., chemical manufacturers.

The airline removed the crated model from Civic Center Friday. Only cost to the county, according to Clinton DeLap, managing director of the Marin Visitors Bureau, was for construction of the crate, built by public works employees.

Other exhibits in the hotel will depict the planned new bridge across San Francisco Bay, new state fair grounds in Sacramento, an industrial park, a college campus and a missile factory.

With these will be samples of California food, wine and fashions, plus charts, placards and murals demonstrating the cultural, economic and educational features of the state.

DeLap said a plan to provide 50,000 copies of a brochure about Marin County had fallen through, but he still hopes to send 5,000 copies for distribution at the New York exhibit.

Strep As Usual Leads Diseases

While the Asian flu continued to get the headlines, Marin County's perennial streptococcus infections last week again led the list of those diseases tabulated by the Marin County Health Department.

Fifteen strep infections were reported by the department, with five in Novato, three in San Rafael and two in Corte Madera. One each was listed in Mill Valley, San Anselmo, Fairfax, Kentfield and the Belvedere-Tiburon area.

Also reported during the week were three cases of tuberculosis, with two in San Rafael and the other in Corte Madera, and two cases of measles, in Sausalito and San Anselmo.

A case of gonorrhea was reported in Corte Madera, while a case of salmonella food poisoning was reported in a rural area.

Board Calls Halt To Student Loans

Directors of the College of Marin Foundation, a fund-raising organization, Monday night put a temporary freeze on emergency loans to College of Marin students, after a financial report showed that they have loaned $2,432 more than appropriated for short-term lending this year.

Emergency loans of up to $50 are given by the foundation to students in need of books, supplies and other incidental items. They are made payable at the end of the semester. The foundation has given out $9,374 in such loans since June.

The financial report also showed the foundation has received contributions totaling $11,158 since June. The funds go for student scholarships and loans. Directors voted to begin this month on a campaign to raise $17,500 by the end of the school year.

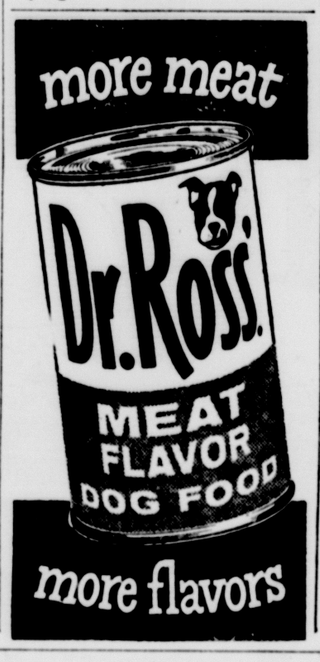
Ebony wood is used for inlaying.

Cranston To Tell Of District Setup

State Controller Alan Cranston will speak on the makeup, function and problems of special districts at 8 p.m. March 10 in the supervisors' chambers at Marin Civic Center.

Cranston's appearance will come as the result of an invitation by the county's Local Agency Formation Commission, whose work is often complicated by unanswered questions about such districts.

Directors of all county special districts have been invited to attend the session.



Machines Will Be Used To Supplement Learning

By SHERRY DAMMARELL
Tamalpais High School

A "learning center," described as a way of learning supplemented by machines, is to be initiated for juniors and sophomores at Tamalpais High School. It is expected to go "into action" this semester.

The center is being set up by Glidden Benefied, special projects assistant with the Tamalpail High School District, with federal funds appropriate for the educationally deprived. It will be in Room 16 of Wood Hall.

The concept of the center is to break down the standard formalized classroom idea, and to direct attention toward aiding students to learn at their own speed and to improve their study skills. The center will use modern science to take place of the teacher in teaching students how to read, study and learn.

Room 16 is being divided into two sound areas, the larger area to provide for individual study in booths with use of hearing devices. The second room will be used for small groups of students who will work with tapes and records.

It is hoped that the laboratory will be expanded later to include study skills in mathematics, science and social studies. There are also plans to use microfilm to store reading materials.

It is generally agreed a flying fish, upon leaving the water, is merely trying to escape from a predatory fish and is sustained in the air for a few seconds by large pectorial fins.

McInnis To Talk At Conference On Bay Future

Former San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis will be a speaker at the Bay Area Council's fourth annual conference on the future of the Bay Area, scheduled March 17 at the Claremont Hotel, Berkeley.

McInnis, who also is a former president of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments (ABAG), will speak on "ABAG and the Future." His speech is set for 10:20 a.m.

Featured speaker of the all-day session will be William R. Allen, chairman of the 13-city Metropolitan Toronto Council. He will speak at a noon luncheon.

"How Do We Govern the Bay Area?" will be the conference theme.

Jail Term Ordered In Shoplifting Case

Kathleen Cowart, 26, was given a suspended one-year county jail term yesterday for petty theft with a prior conviction on the condition that she serve six months in the jail.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court also placed her on two years probation. The defendant, of Richmond, pleaded guilty Feb. 8 to a Sept. 10 Corte Madera theft. She was first convicted in Marin County for petty theft from Montgomery Ward and Co. on March 23, 1964.

Savings Bond Sales

U.S. Savings Bonds sales in Marin County during January totalled $164,392, while in Northern California, purchases amounted to $12,387,270, D. C. Davis, Marin County Savings Bonds Chairman reported.

Candidates Due On Radio Panel

The Radio KTIM weekly program, "Marin Sounding Board," takes on a political flavor tomorrow at 9 a.m. when candidates for Corte Madera City Council take part in the first of a series of programs aimed at presenting the lineup for Marin County municipal elections April 12.

Taking part in the discussion will be Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, councilmen Norman R. Barnett and Albert E. Jogler and the candidates contesting their seats, Holmes S. Norville, Charles T. Thompson, Harold B. Wagstaff and Ellen Wirth.

A recording of tomorrow's program will be broadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m. Next week, candidates for Mill Valley City Council will be featured.

TAKE TO THE AIR FOR 'HOMEWORK'

MEDICARE IN MARIN

County Officials Face Problem Of Deciding Costs To Taxpayer

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK
(Third of five articles)

John F. Barrows, assistant Marin County administrator, has been pondering the past few days a pair of figures sent to him from Sacramento: $779,194.98 and $1,174,299.19.

One of those figures will represent the share of the state's medical care program to be paid by property taxpayers of Marin. The board of supervisors must choose by July 1. The program started operating yesterday.

The larger figure may actually save the county money in the long run, because it is supposed to represent the total cost of medical care by the county, including care for patients who will not be covered by the state's new program.

The county will be reimbursed for its costs for care of persons who do not qualify for either state or federal Medicare programs, but the whole thing will be done by a bookkeeping transaction in Sacramento.

The main problem in choosing the larger figure is that the law requires any county that picks that formula to continue using it until 1970.

Actually, the above figures are really what the county's share would have been this year, if the program had been in effect all year. The figure will be increased next fiscal year to take care of population increase, but will not charge local taxpayers for inflation of medical care costs.

The total effect of the new arrangement will be that county funds and state funds will in the future be put into a single pot, to be matched by federal money, for providing medical care for the needy.

In the past, a large part of such expenses were entirely Marin County's responsibility, so the new state and federal money will increase the level of service.

But no longer will the county supervisors have any say about that level of care, or how much will be paid locally.

The changed arrangement was required for federal allocations to the state, but it has caused a host of administrative problems.

More serious problems were caused, however, by the fact the Casey Bill, which set up the state's own Medicare program, was not voted into law until November, during the special late session of the State Legislature.

There was simply not enough time to get ready for the program, and the boat slid down the ways yesterday when it was only partially completed.

Identification cards, to be carried by people eligible for state Medicare, were supposed to be ready yesterday. They have not been printed. Neither have applications.

The rulings on procedures to be followed at the county level were not written until the day before the program started. The decision on who should get care, and how much, was not made until Feb. 19.

Part of the delay was to allow bookkeepers to find out exactly how much money would be in the till. Then the state had to decide whether to restrict the number of people receiving care, but increase the amount of care, or give a minimal amount of care to a large number of people.

The decision was to give a broad scope of care, but to tightly restrict the number of people receiving it.

From the point of view of those drawing up the county budget, the state program is still a question mark. One thing is certain: The budget of the county medical department can be cut by as much as 50 per cent.

However, the budget for the social services department is likely to go up sharply. That department is expected to provide social work for families of persons in the program.

And there is as yet no guess as to how many people will finally be aided, and what services they will request and be entitled to receive. It is certain that many welfare recipients, for instance, will be able to receive more free dental care, and get new glasses. In addition, they will be able to choose their own doctors and hospitals, which may mean that there will be an overload of patients at some hospitals and empty beds at others.

Finally, some people under the state program will have to pay part of the cost of their care, but who is to collect it?

State officials said that collection will be entirely between the patient and his doctor, dentist, pharmacist or whoever is owed money. But when medical, pharmacy, dental and other similar bills are run up at the same time, no one has yet figured out which bills will be paid by the patient and which by the state. The state will be easy to collect from, but the patient might not be.

The state law had one peculiarity which affected Marin County only. This county has a visiting nurse service for persons bedridden at home who do not need hospitalization. The county contracts with a private company which supplies the nurses.

The new law says such services cannot be provided by a profit-making company, and there was serious fear that Marin's program might be cancelled, because there are no other visiting nurses.

But, the day before the program was to start, the State Department of Public Health decided the present program could continue until July 1. By then, special legislation is expected to have been passed.

(Tomorrow's article will list benefits available for persons over 65 from the federal Medicare program.)

Hub Trustees Hear Social Studies Report

The San Anselmo School District Board conducted no business last night, but spent its meeting listening to a report on the teaching of social studies in district schools.

Trustees adjourned to a special meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the district office, to review budget proposals for fiscal 1967.

New Substation To Be Asked

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said yesterday he would propose a sheriff's substation for Kentfield at next Tuesday's board meeting.

He did not want to call it a substation, however. "I wish we could find another name for it," Kettenhofen said, explaining that it would just be a rented office and a desk.

"How About Check Ernie?" Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker asked.

Garbage Bid Rejected By Tam Valley Board

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors last night rejected three bid proposals for garbage service, saying all would result in a substantial increase in collection rates for residents.

Low bid was received from Mill Valley Refuse Inc. at $2.75 per month for one weekly pickup. The charge made by the same company now is $2.50. Other bidders were Sunset Scavengers, San Francisco, and Richmond Sanitary Co., Richmond, both at $3.

The board, after a two-hour discussion, agreed to redraft specifications in hope the rates can be "reasonably reduced without an impairment of service," reported chairman Gale E. Bishel. The subject will be taken up again Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the district office at 305 Bell Lane.

Albert Bianchi, attorney for Mill Valley Refuse, said his company is left with three choices: to continue service without a contract as at present, to negotiate for a contract, or to withdraw its investment in the area and discontinue Tamalpais Valley operations. Bianchi said company partners will make a decision by April 1.

Remains In Coma

Young Sculptors Remember Blackie

The statuettes weren't made as memorials, although that's what they have become. They were made by pupils in Mrs. Bertha Bedilion's third grade class at Reed School three weeks ago—well before Blackie's death last Saturday.

Their display will be in the bank where a Blackie Memorial Fund to erect a life-size statue was opened yesterday with $90 in contributions.

It has been suggested that the statue be carved of wood by Barney West, Sausalito tiki carver.

West said today that if that is done, it won't be a tiki. A tiki is a Polynesian idol, he pointed out. Blackie was a Tiburon idol.

Hit-Run Auto Hurts Cyclist

A 9-year-old San Anselmo boy, riding his bicycle home from the grocery store on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Luna Lane last night, suffered a fractured right leg when he was hit by an auto which went on without slowing, police reported.

David Ballard, son of Jack Ballard of 130 Sycamore Avenue, San Anselmo, was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today, his leg in a cast.

David told police a "big, black car" struck him, knocking him to the rain-slick pavement.

David told police that he did not see the car until it was on top of him because its headlights were not on. He said the auto drove off to the west, never even slowing.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said today he is not certain the driver knew he struck something.

Buchignani said his department has put out an all-points bulletin for a car with a slight dent on its right side and a trace of gold paint from the boy's bike.

American frontiersman Sam Houston of Texas was born on this day in 1793.

On this day in history:

In 1877, Rutherford Hayes was named president by Congress in settlement of a dispute over the election of 1876. He was declared the winner over Democrat Samuel Tilden.

In 1927, Babe Ruth became the highest paid baseball player up to that time when he signed a contract with the New York Yankees for $70,000 a year.

In 1943, the battle of the Bismarck Sea began. American airmen eventually destroyed a Japanese convoy of 21 ships.

A Thought for the Day — American humorist Mark Twain said: "Good breeding consists of concealing how much we think of ourselves and how little we think of the other person."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Signal To Partner Sometimes Backfires, Assists Declarer

In some hands the correct defensive signal tells your partner when to take an ace or what suit to save.

In many others, a signal cannot help your partner but may give important information to declarer.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

Any five-card suit, no matter how weak, is biddable if the hand as a whole is strong enough for a response.

East took the ace of hearts and returned the queen.

SOUTH CONFIDENT

Needing the rest of the tricks, South had nothing to fear unless the clubs broke badly.

South next led the jack of spades, and West began a signal by playing the eight.

The signal could not help East since if East had the ace of spades he would take the setting trick with or without a signal.

The signal served only to tell South that West had started with an even number of spades—two or four.

MISSING FOUR

East had thrown, in order, the deuce, trey, five and six of spades.

Since East was an orderly person South felt sure that the four of spades would have appeared if East had held it.

Clearly, West held the four of spades, and his signal was meant to show four spades rather than just two.

By this time South knew that West had started with five hearts, four spades and three trumps.

There was room in his hand for only one club.

Declarer therefore led a low club to dummy's ace and returned the ten through East. If East played low, South would let the ten ride for a finesse.

If East covered the ten with the jack of clubs, South would win and get to dummy with a trump to lead another club through East.

Either way South would make the contract.

ATTENTION, PLEASE!
Do you want an organ in your home and the FUN it can give your ENTIRE family?
BUT
1. Don't want the inconvenience of going to a studio to learn to play?
2. Don't have the hours or time for private instruction in your home?
3. Cost of instruction too much for you or entire family when free lessons are over?
THEN WAIT NO LONGER
If any of these reasons are holding your musical enjoyment in check Pacific Organ & Piano's EXCLUSIVE new "FAMILY-FUN PROGRAM" is designed for you and all of your family. Children of all ages, mother & dad, grandmother & grandfather all CAN and WILL play the organ using Pacific's "FAMILY FUN PROGRAM."
Come in and see us now and find a lifetime of musical pleasure at your finger tips.

A REAL STEAL
ON DEEP WATER
4-BR., 2 bath, frplc., large rear yard leads out to deep water dockage. The house needs the touch of a fixer upper to show a neat profit. A real sound investment for either the family seeking a fine home or you can fix it up & make a profit. $25,950.

60—Homes For Sale

Marin County

Ah, Wilderness . . .

—delicious to think about, but not too practical in today's world. Here's our compromise: A home for you and your family that is in civilization but that DOESN'T look over the back fence into someone else's yard. The view is wide across unspoiled oak-studded hills and valleys, beautiful even in January weather. A nearly new, quality-built, non-tract beauty of 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, 2 fireplaces, a family room, and most important, a feeling of HOME. You won't believe this ad, so make an appointment and see the house, because the price is only $29,950!!!

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY BY GUARDIAN
No. 31033

Guardianship of the Person and Estate of ALICE WALLACE, Incompetent.

Notice is hereby given that EDITH DREW, as Guardian of the Person and Estate of ALICE WALLACE, an incompetent person, will, on or after March 15, 1966, sell at private sale to the highest bidder on the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned and subject to confirmation by the above entitled Court, all the right, title and interest of the above named incompetent person in and to the following described real property, to wit:

Commencing at a point in the Westerly line of the County Road leading from Tomales to Valley Ford distant southeasterly 27½ feet from the intersection of the southerly line of lands owned by Charles J. Cunningham, conveyed to him from David Bassett and wife by deed dated September 1st, 1920, recorded on September 3rd 1920, in Volume 217 of Deeds, page 385a Marin County Records; and the westerly line of the said County road; thence westerly parallel with the said southerly line of the lands hereinbefore mentioned 995 feet, thence southerly 400 feet, thence Easterly 1318 feet to the Westerly line of the said County road, thence northwesterly along the westerly line of the said County Road to the point of beginning. Containing 10.62 acres of land. Being portion of lands conveyed to Charles J. Cunningham from David Bassett by deed dated September 1st 1915, recorded October 11th 1915, in Vol 174 of deeds, page 40, together with perpetual right of way over the 25 foot road owned by the parties of the first part, which said road is running along the northerly line of the tract hereby conveyed. There is also granted to the party of the second part the perpetual right to take and to draw water from that certain spring located on the lands of the parties of the first part, situate 138 feet southerly from a point on the southerly line of the tract hereby conveyed, which said point is distant Easterly 503 feet from the southwest corner of the said tract. The party of the second part and his successors in interest are also hereby granted the right to enter at all times upon the lands of the parties of the first part on which the said spring is located for the purpose of laying pipes thereon from the said spring to the land hereinbefore contracted to be sold, and of mending and repairing such pipes, and of cleaning, opening, excavating and bettering the said spring, and they shall be allowed to exercise every right upon the said tract of land on which the said spring is located that may be necessary for the full and complete enjoyment of the privilege herein granted, doing at all times as little damage as possible. Together with the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging or appertaining, and the reversion and reversions, remainder and remainders, rents, issues and profits thereof.

Terms and conditions of sale: A sale on credit, part cash and part credit, in the form of a promissory note, said note to be secured by a deed of trust upon the real property to be sold, to bear interest at the rate of not less than 8% per annum, principal and interest payable in monthly installments of not less than $75.00 per month with said payments so received to be credited first towards interest earned, the balance, if any, to be credited towards principal, final and full maturity of said promissory note five (5) years from the date of said sale. The amount of the purchase price in excess of the note to be cash, lawful money of the United States; ten per cent (10%) of the total purchase price to be paid at the time of sale, the balance upon delivery of the deed. Search of title and title insurance at the expense of the purchaser. Insurance, taxes, and rents, if any, to be prorated as of the date of recordation of the deed.

All bids or offers must be in writing and may be delivered to said guardian in person or left at the offices of Jones & Sinai, 721 Mendocino Avenue, Santa Rosa, California, attorneys for said guardian, or they may be filed in the office of the Clerk of the above entitled Court at any time after the first publication of this notice and before the making of the sale.

The right to reject any and all bids is hereby reserved.

McCarthy Rebounds From Touch Of Flu

Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, suffered a touch of influenza Monday but was back on the job yesterday afternoon as presiding officer in the State Senate.

McCarthy is serving as president pro-tem of the Senate during the absence of Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, who is recovering from surgery.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Coughing A Widespread Malady, Due To Many Different Causes

VAN DELLEN

Cough is so common that it is usually accepted in the best society. Most city dwellers are affected, especially where the air is polluted and irritating to the throat and bronchi. The chance of developing a persistent cough is greater among smokers, asthmatics, and those with emphysema and chronic bronchitis.

There is considerable evidence that air pollution is a contributing cause of many respiratory conditions. Urbanites breathe in a combination of various chemicals, carcinogenic substances, and infectious agents.

MANY LARGE cities are taking steps to reduce the daily fallout of soot and other chemicals including those coming from the exhausts of cars, buses, and trucks.

The irritants are not always by-products of industry, combustion motors, or furnaces. Pigeon droppings, for example, decay into a dust and those that harbor certain viruses are capable of causing serious respiratory infections. These deposits also contain uric acid that adds to the chemical pollution of the air.

Specific sensitizing substances fill the atmosphere at certain times of the year. The most notorious are tree, grass and weed pollens. They are troublesome to hay fever and asthma victims.

COUGHING CAN be induced by inhaling objects such as peanuts, coins, and large pieces of food. This is not pollution but is mentioned to demonstrate that all respiratory irritants are not of microscopic size. The reflex also is a common nervous manifestation and repeated hard coughing for weeks or months may cause irritation with redness and swelling of the larynx and bronchi.

The only cure for cough is to find and remove the cause. This is easy in some but more difficult for the city dweller and inveterate smoker. In addition, the offender must be removed before the membranes are permanently damaged.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

FLU AFTERMATH

J. J. G. writes: An attack of flu a year ago left me with chronic bronchitis. I do not smoke and am under the care of a good doctor. Is it possible to overcome this condition? I am not allergic to anything and until the flu attack, had no difficulty.

REPLY

Yes, provided this is not a nervous cough. Now and then chronic bronchitis is a complication of influenza especially when it damages the smaller bronchi and air sacs.

HEARTBURN

Mrs. T. writes: What are the symptoms of heartburn?

REPLY

A burning sensation in the pit of the stomach. It commonly is associated with belching and regurgitation of gastric acid into the lower end of the esophagus (gullet). The prefix heart was attached possibly because of the proximity of the discomfort to the site of that organ.

WHY HURRY?

A. S. D. writes: I've had a receding chin all my life. How long will it take to correct it by plastic surgery?

REPLY

Why be in a hurry now? I doubt if you will be incapacitated for more than two weeks, depending upon the extent of the operation.

ITCHING BITES

Mrs. T. B. writes: What causes mosquito bites to itch?

REPLY

This reaction, which is similar to hives, is thought to be on an allergic basis. Itching and swelling result from the irritation which follows the release of histamine into the tissues, after the bite.

Dogs Leading Men On Trail In Space

By GENE BYLINSKY
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—The two Russian dogs orbiting the Earth are believed to be trailblazers for a manned space station designed to stay in orbit for at least a month.

U.S. analysts consider this the most likely goal of what seems to be a new stage in the Soviet space program. They note that Russia hasn't rocketed dogs into space for five years now.

But previous space launches of dogs led to the first orbital flight by man, made by Cosmonaut Yuri Garagin in April, 1961.

Presumably, more dogs will be launched before a new Soviet manned space station is placed in orbit. But American specialists who watch over Soviet space moves don't exclude a Russian manned flight next month.

They say renewed tests on space dogs also could mean preparations are in progress for sending dogs to the moon and the planets, in advance of manned expeditions.

One analyst notes, for instance, that the dog-carrying Cosmos 110 satellite was placed into an orbital inclination which the Russians have also used to launch unmanned probes to the moon and the planets.

The inclination, 51.9 degrees to the equatorial plane, is somewhat lower than the one used for Soviet manned flights in the past.

The lowed launch inclination allows the placing of heavier weights into orbit. Russian moon and planetary probes have been launched into this type of orbit and then propelled toward their targets by means of an additional rocket burst.

By placing Cosmos 110 into an orbit more than 500 miles high and 185 miles low, the Russians have assured a lifetime of more than a month for their satellite. U.S. space experts suggest the flight is intended as a test of a new life support system, perhaps even of a new type spaceship.

This country plans to place small monkeys into earth orbit for as long as 30 to 60 days as part of its preparations for longer manned flight. If the Russians don't launch men on an extended space mission this year, the U.S. will set a new record in December by launching an early model of the Apollo moonship into a two-week earth orbital tryout with three men aboard.

Before the Russians try to send men to the moon, they will have to perfect orbital rendezvous and docking. But they could send men on a flight around the moon, without landing there, by man-rating" their 12.2-ton scientific Proton satellite, according to U.S. specialists. "Man-rating" means testing the launch rocket and the spaceship long enough to make it safe for men.

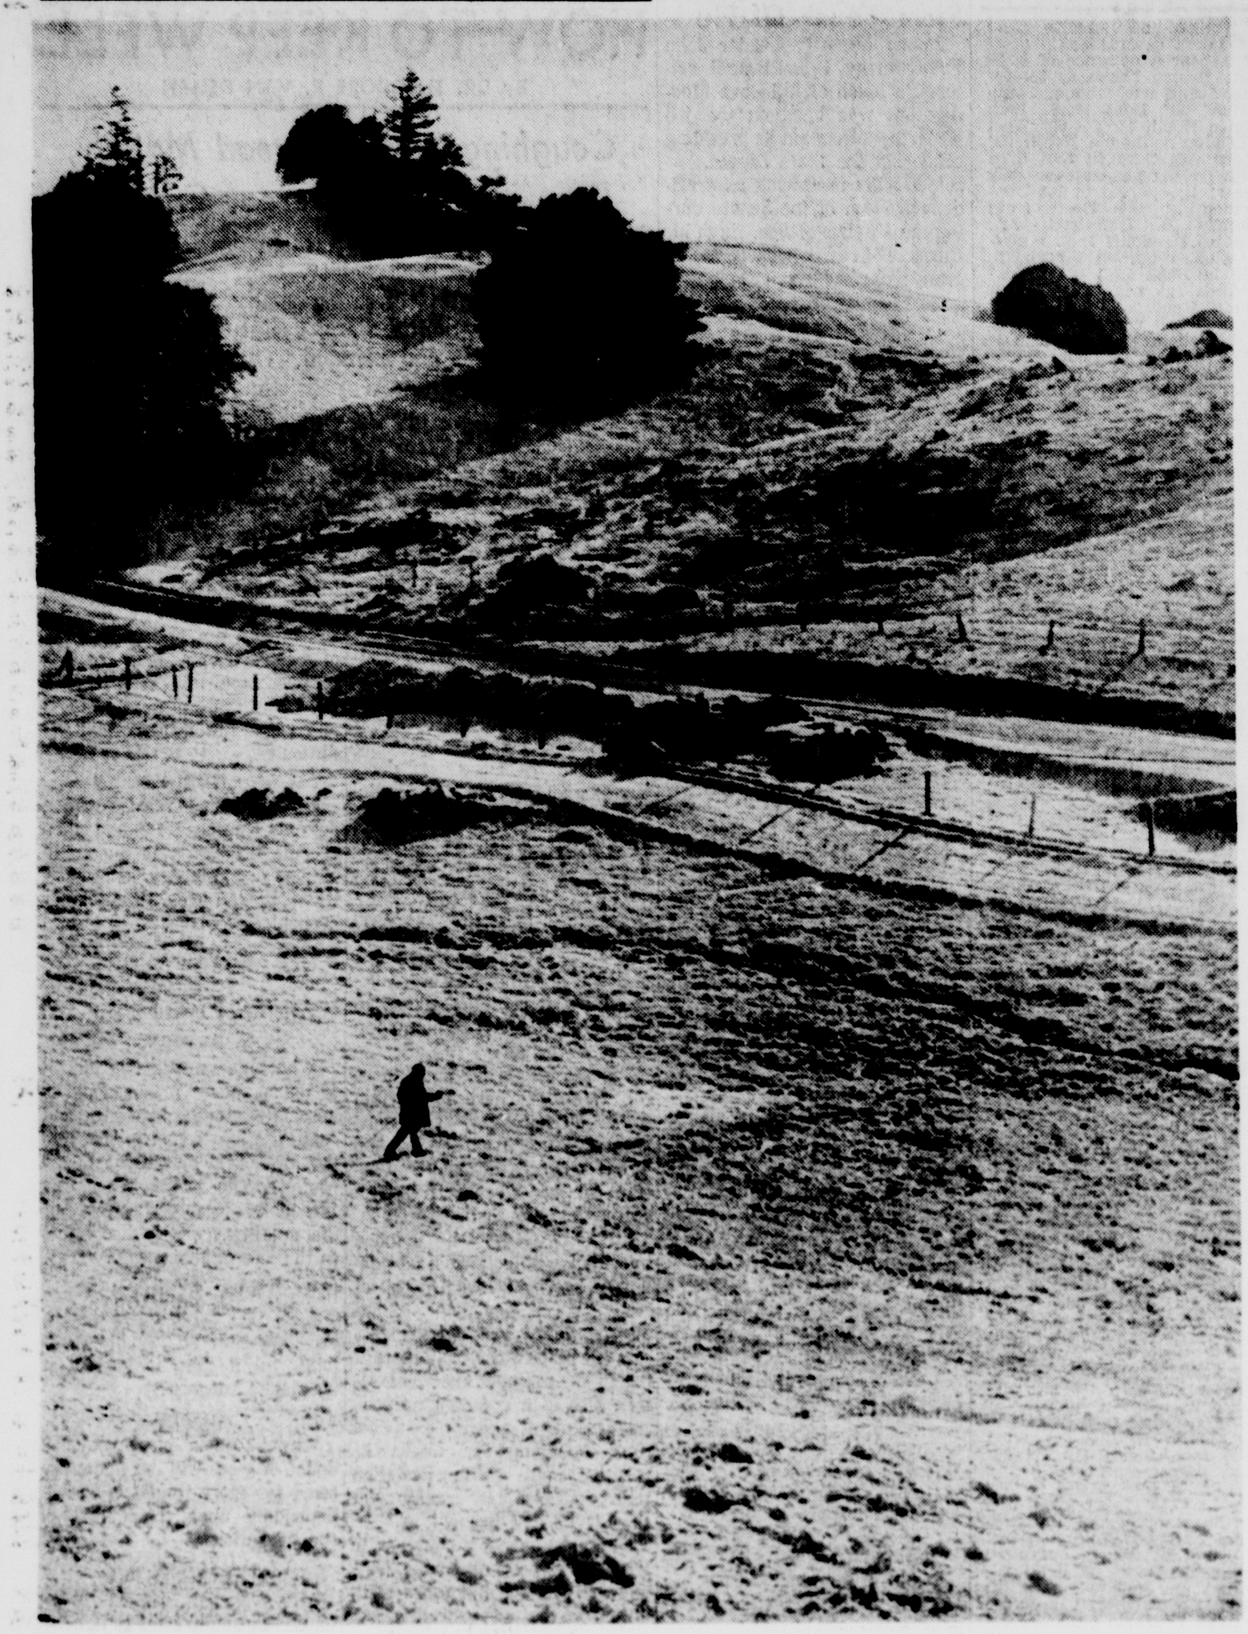
As far as landing the first men on the moon, however, this country still



THE SNOWFIELDS OF MARIN, AND A CLOSEUP

Students Set Run-Off Vote For Office

One of the only two contested offices in balloting on the College of Marin campus Monday and yesterday was forced into a run-off election which will be held on campus tomorrow and Friday.

Vying for rallies and assemblies commissioner will be James Brewer of Fairfax and Steve Schilling of Mill Valley. Brewer received 191 votes, Schilling 171, and Bruce Ferry of San Rafael, 37. A majority of the votes cast is needed for election.

John Larsen of San Rafael defeated William Perin of San Rafael 217 to 161 for sophomore men's representative, the only other contested office on the ballot.

Other officers elected and the vote tallies were: Jody Angel of San Anselmo, sophomore women's representative, 324; Dennis Gilardi of Larkspur, freshman men's representative, 330; Jeri Stehlin of Belvedere, freshman women's representative, 326; Barbara Dillon of San Anselmo, commissioner of spirit and athletics, 329; and Donna Ryan of San Rafael, college center commissioner, 343.

San Rafael Council Meeting Site Shifts

A joint meeting of the San Rafael City Council and San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission tonight will be held at the city recreation center, Second and Brooks streets.

The meeting, to open at 8 p.m., had been scheduled for the city hall.

More Officials Found Lacking On Oath Rites

The oath of Gene McDaniel, chairman of Bolinas Harbor District board, is out of date, and there is no oath of office on file for harbor district director Thomas Towns.

The oaths of Carlos B. Rivamonte and Edwin J. Grundstrom of the Novato Sanitary District are out of date, and there is no oath on file for John R. Adlard, director of the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell announced these findings today as he completed his review of all special district boards to check compliance with the oath of office requirement.

Mitchell said his review was made at the request of County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney. He has written directors found to be serving without proper oaths on file, asking that they comply with the law.

North Marin Water Board Sells Building, Minus Bids

The North Marin County Water District yesterday received no bid for its office building at 834 Vallejo Avenue, Novato, but sold the building anyway.

The district board had scheduled opening of bids on the building prior to moving into new offices on Atherton Avenue at the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. The hour passed without a bid. Later, however, Page Construction Co. of Novato made an offer of $85,000 for the building with a $1,000 deposit, asking for an option until March 21 to complete the deal. The price was the minimum set by the board in its bid call.

The board accepted Page's offer last night.

Lagunitas School Leader Quits

Lagunitas School District Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff submitted his resignation last night to the district board, which expressed its regret.

McCunniff will serve until the end of the present school year.

Board President Lee Stone said, "We regret his decision, but understand his desire to seek greener pastures. We cannot offer a great deal of money."

Stone said the board has no immediate successor in mind, but will begin the search immediately.

The board reaffirmed its intention to put the $200,000 bond issue and $400,000 state loan request on the June primary ballot. Similar measures were defeated Feb. 15 after heated objections to the proposed Woodacre school site were voiced by residents of the site.

Stone said no decision has yet been made as to whether or not a different site will now be chosen. A site selection committee will meet in about three weeks, he said. "After that there will be a public hearing on the committee's findings," he said.

Decision Due On Demotion

The Marin County Personnel Commission met for five hours in closed session yesterday to hear of the complaint of Walter R. Noll of the county public works department.

Noll, who requested the closed session, claims a de facto demotion when the number of engineering classifications was reduced in January from three to two. Instead of being in the middle of three classifications, Noll is in the bottom of two.

Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott said the commission must issue a report on the plea within 15 days.

Home Is Prowled

Burglars broke a patio sliding glass door of the home of Harriet Georgia Doane, 251 Cobblestone Drive, Marinwood, but nothing of value was believed taken, sheriff's officers said today. Mrs. Doane told officers it appeared someone slept in a guest bed, however.

Mossler's Defense Hits State Claims

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Candace Mossler's defense lawyers attacked today the state's theory that her multimillionaire husband, Jacques, was bludgeoned with a soda bottle before he was stabbed to death.

"Where's that pop bottle?" demanded Walter Gwinn, a member of the defense battery at Mrs. Mossler's first-degree murder trial with her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers.

An illicit love affair between aunt and nephew has been advanced by the state as a motive for the 1964 slaying of Mossler, 69.

WHERE'S WEAPON?

The state never has produced any weapon connected with the murder, but has suggested that Powers carried an empty soft drink bottle to the scene and used it to bludgeon the victim. yesterday, as closing arguments got under way in the seventh week of the sensational trial, Mrs. Mossler had a finger thrust at her and heard the state claim that "she is most guilty of all, even though she didn't strike the fatal blow.

"She was his aunt, and he'd do anything for her," the prosecution said of Powers, whom it has tabbed as the actual slayer.

MOTIVE DISCLAIMED

Mrs. Mossler hunched down an inch or so in her chair but betrayed no emotion at the accusation.

"There is no motive here," the defense declared in a climax to yesterday's full day of final trial summation.

The case is expected to reach tomorrow.

Mrs. Mossler, who gives her age as 40, and Powers, 29, are accused of plotting to have him bludgeon and stab her husband June 30, 1964, while she deliberately absented herself with four adopted children from her Key Biscayne apartment.

Bond Issue Gains Fairfax Backing

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night endorsed the $4.3 million county bond issue for parks on the June 7 ballot.

The city's share for development would be $122,000.

The commission also considered the installation of tennis courts near the Little League baseball park on School Street and expressed its intention to explore cost and feasability of the project.

Convicted Killer Not Emotional

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Charles Schmid's reaction since his arrest and yesterday, when a jury found him guilty of murdering two sisters, has been notable for one thing—the lack of emotion.

"That's the way it goes," said Schmid, 23, after hearing the jury recommend death in the gas chamber.

Schmid was charged with murdering Gretchen Fritz, 17, and her sister, Wendy, 13, last Aug. 16. He was arrested Nov. 10, the day the girls' bodies were found. They were daughters of a prominent Tucson heart surgeon. The trial began Feb. 15.

County Atty. Norman Green said Schmid would be tried for murder in the Rowe case March 15, four days after sentence is formally passed in the Fritz slayings.

Train Kills Girl In Stalled Auto

MILLBRAE (AP)—The Southern Pacific Co.'s Daylight passenger train struck a car yesterday and killed the girl driver, who apparently became confused when her motor stalled.

No one was injured aboard the northbound Daylight, which operates between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

After the car stalled on the tracks, warning lights flashed and gates closed but the girl remained in the vehicle.

License Issue Set

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Unless written protest is filed, the contractors state license board announced today it will issue a license March 16 to Pauley Construction Company Inc., 170 Solano Street, San Rafael, for general contracting. William C. Pauley, Remo J. Canepa and Clement Gouveia are the applicants.

Assessor To Address Property Owner Unit

Proposed property tax reforms and how they might affect Marin County taxpayers will be discussed by County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel when he speaks to the Marin Property Owners at noon next Wednesday at Nero's Restaurant, Novato.

Broemmel is the first of several county officials who will be invited to address the group, said Melvin Rupp, executive director of the property owners' group.

Cities' Shares Of Park Bonds Spelled Out

Here is how the money would be divided if the $4.3 million county bond issue for parks, set for June 7 by supervisors yesterday, should be approved:

San Rafael would receive $511,738; Novato, $415,757; San Anselmo, $218,514; Mill Valley, $193,351; Corte Madera, $131,285; Larkspur, $129,747; Fairfax, $122,922; Sausalito, $111,137; Tiburon, $80,895; Ross, $44,165, and Belvedere, $40,489.

The above disbursements would be on a population basis.

Two million dollars would go toward parks in the county's unincorporated territory, with $1.8 million for land purchase and $200,000 for development.

The total allocations proposed add up to $4,277,500, but supervisors agreed to round the figure off at $4.3 million.

Terra Linda Coed Earns Trip Abroad

Terra Linda High School junior Jan Lecklikner, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. N. A. Lecklikner of 88 Elena Circle, San Rafael, will spend the first part of the summer in the Netherlands and the balance touring Europe.

She has been named as the school's summer ambassador under the Experiment in International Living.

Junior Michelle Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Crawford of 716 Birchwood Court, Terra Linda, was named alternate.

Miss Lecklikner also was named the winner in the Terra Linda area speech contest sponsored by the Marin Civic Center Lions Club. She will represent the school in the area contest at the Civic Center March 25.

Apartments Fire Routes Dozen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A four-alarm fire in three apartment buildings in alleyways near downtown San Francisco was brought under control early today with residents escaping unharmed.

The fire department said the blaze was brought under control at 12:23 a.m. Fire officials estimated the loss to the three buildings at $100,000.

The fire department said a dozen families lived in the buildings, each of which was three-stories high. They escaped the blaze, but one fireman was taken to the hospital with an injured right foot.

Jury Trial Planned In Burglary Case

Sheila Jo Leppik, 18, charged with the burglary of Lagunitas Grocery Store, was scheduled yesterday for jury trial in Marin Superior Court on June 13.

She allegedly broke into the store Dec. 19. Also charged in the case is Richard Lee Wagner, 19. Both are from Forest Knolls.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Lively International Debate In Series

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Television's most distinguished series, CBS-TV's "Town Meeting of the World," presented last night a lively international debate on the spread of nuclear weapons — and how to stop it. The two-way Europe-American program was transmitted via the Early Bird satellite earlier in the day, and was taped for delayed broadcast in prime time.

The participants were Sen. Robert Kennedy, in Washington; Lord Chalfont, British minister of state for foreign affairs, in Geneva; former West German Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss, in Munich, and retired French air force Gen. Pierre Gallois, in Paris. The moderator once again for television's most enlightened and purposeful use of the Early Bird satellite was Eric Sevareid.

The French, as usual, were most helpful: "We could not disagree more," said Gen. Gallois. He was referring in essence to the basic split in views during the hour between Sen. Kennedy and Lord Chalfont on the one side and Herr Strauss and Gen. Gallois on the other. The senator and Lord Chalfont felt that steps must be taken to halt the proliferation of nuclear weapons. The general indicated he felt that each nation should look out for itself and never mind anybody else's business. Herr Strauss, whose country is non-nuclear, was a sharp and pointed contributor of statements highlighting the complex issue.

It was the view of Sen. Kennedy that nothing—and that includes Viet Nam—is as important a world issue as the spread and control of nuclear weapons. Lord Chalfont agreed. On the other hand, Gen. Gallois and Herr Strauss felt that the mere presence of nuclear weapons might have diminished the potential of major conflict since World War II. Herr Strauss wondered if perhaps we might not already have had a "medium-sized" war if there hadn't been nuclear weapons, which left the viewer wondering precisely what dimension he might find adequate to describe what is happening in Viet Nam.

All of the protagonists were splendid choices for a television debate, and contributed their due shares toward making the hour come alive. Herr Strauss particularly punctured the myth of heaviness in all German humor by displaying perhaps the keenest and most honed wit of all the participants —and in a language foreign to him, too, English. Gen. Gallois spoke in English, too, and he had no trouble in making quite clear exactly what he had in mind.

Youth Forum To Hear Talk By General

Maj. Gen. Andrew R. Lolli, commander of the 28th region of the North American Air Defense Command at Hamilton Air Force Base, will give the keynote address at the opening of the Marin Youth for Action conference at the College of Marin March 19 at 9 a.m.

The conference, the result of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's Conference on Youth at Sacramento last fall, will discuss education, human relations, the family, youth and the law, and jobs.

The theme will be "Communication with Youth—A Search for Understanding."

Joseph Friedman, a senior at Tamalpais High School, and Peggy Blackmore, a senior at San Domenico High School, will be co-chairmen for the event, which is open to all youth in Marin County as well as adults.

Sponsors of the conferences are the county board of supervisors, county board of education, Novato Chamber of Commerce, Marin Youth Council and the county superintendent of schools' office.

Probation, Fine Set In Compass Episode

Eighteen months probation and a $56 fine were given Hibbard Fuque Lee, 23, yesterday by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court for malicious mischief.

Lee, of 1520 Bridgeway, Sausalito, was charged in connection with disappearance of a $30 ship's compass last Nov. 5 from Marinship Yacht Harbor. He was also ordered to pay for re-installation of the compass, owned by Sean Mooney, Marinship.

Downtown Foot Patrols Are Asked In Sausalito

Sausalito city council indicated last night they would like to see policeman on foot patrol in the downtown area.

"There are an awful lot of things going on downtown that need policemen's close attention," said Councilman Melvin S. Wax.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk said he favored foot patrols, but not if they would "damage" coverage in other areas of town, such as patrols in the hills.

"I feel we should have foot patrol down here," said Councilman Earl F. Dunphy.

"During traffic jams on weekends, I've never seen a cop get out and direct traffic," Wax said. He also charged that although there has been an increase in the police force, "we still have more crimes in the hills."

Dyk said: "Let's get the facts. I don't know how much crime has increased." He said that while walking at night he sees patrol cars frequently. "How many burglaries they prevent, I don't know."

The discussion arose because Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck had said that providing a foot patrol would jeopardize coverage in the hill areas.

Councilmen said they wanted information on where crimes are committed and how these areas are covered.

The Sausalito City Council also:

1. Accepted the planning commission's recommendation that the new seawall be curved in the area of Princess Park, the Sea Lion and Tiffany Beach, and referred it to City Engineer Beverly J. Whitlow for drawing preliminary plans and cost estimate.

2. Designated Sausalito's sphere of interest for planning purposes to include from the Golden Gate Bridge on the south to Tiburon Boulevard and Shoreline Highway on the north, and from the Pacific Ocean on the west to the center of Richardson Bay on the east, including Strawberry Point.

3. Asked City Mgr. Charles A. Brown to re-draft a proposed ordinance to levy a four per cent hotel tax, so that it permits Sausalito to make collections and appeal duties to the county, in expectation that there would be a uniform countywide hotel tax.

4. Approved plans for paving a 400-foot stretch of Sausalito Boulevard at its curve nearest to Highway 101, with the roadway to be 18-feet wide.

5. Passed a resolution setting nine consolidated precincts and naming election officials for the April 12 municipal election.

6. Authorized Fire Chief Charles E. Matsen to attend a state oil fire school in Turlock March 17-19, and appropriated $80 to cover expenses.

7. Adjourned until March 15 at 7:30 p.m., when it will have a closed session with City Atty. Leland H. Jordan on current litigation involving the city. The open session will start at 8 p.m.

Draft Litigant Quietly Reports

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — A young man who has sued President Johnson to abolish the draft, quietly entered military service yesterday.

David A. Baumann, 19 of Columbia, Pa., arrived at Lancaster's Selective Service office with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Baumann.

The youth answered a roll call and boarded one of three buses with eight other draftees and 98 pre-draftees.

Baumann, valedictorian of his 1964 high school class, has filed suit against President Johnson in the second District Court of New York to abolish the draft.

Lynch Rules On Campus Unions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch of California has ruled that nonprofit services at state colleges such as book stores, cafeterias and dormitories can sign union contracts with their employes.

After Lynch's opinion was released yesterday, the State Employes Union said it would seek contracts at San Francisco State College and later at Hayard State and other colleges.

The union had sought a contract for cafeteria and book store employes at San Francisco State, but college officials contended there as no legal basis for granting the contract.

Illinois Commission Cancels Clay-Terrell Title Bout

CHICAGO (AP) — The controversial Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell heavyweight title bout scheduled for March 29 in Chicago was canceled today by the Illinois State Athletic Commission in a split vote on the matter of licensing the promoter of the bout.

Actual cancelation of the fight, which had been a hot political issue since Clay's recent anti-draft outburst, came after the three member commission reportedly met in closed session on the request of Irving Schoenwald to conduct the match at Chicago's International Amphitheater.

The board's public meeting, which was delayed 37 minutes by the private huddle, announced the finish of the fight in a brief statement read by the commission secretary.

The statement said that in the special executive session the commission denied the fight permit application submitted by Schoenwald.

The statement further disclosed that Chairman Joe Triner and member Joe Robichaux concurred in denying the permit, while member Lou Radzienda dissented.

No explanation was given for turning down the promoter's permit, but yesterday William G. Clark, Illinois attorney general, sent a six-page directive to Triner citing numerous violations in the original licensing of the bout Feb. 8.

The one-minute public meeting, which was adjourned as soon as the statement was read, was the fourth such session by the commission following the turmoil which developed when Clay made his outburst against his draft reclassification to 1-A.

The new location for the bout is up in the air. There reportedly are several locations bidding for the fight, but several others have already turned it down.

Montreal and Huron, S.D., are said to be interested in staging the match. The bid on behalf of Huron was made by promoter Rod Barnes, who reportedly said he has a license from the South Dakota State Athletic Commission.

Barnes talked yesterday with Ben Bentley, a partner of Schoenwald's, and said the fight could be held in the 6,000-seat Huron Arena.

The possibility of staging the fight in Montreal, however, is complicated by the fact that Clay, who is appealing his draft status, would have to get permission to leave the United States until his military future is cleared up.

The future of the bout mainly hinges on a decision by Main Bout, Inc., which holds closed-circuit television rights and had anticipated grossing several millions dollars from these rights. The organization already has contracted to televise the bout into the United Kingdom via Early Bird satellite.

Schoenwald and Bentley were put on the spot as early as last Friday when Clark ruled that their corporation was illegal because it failed to have a minimum of 50 members as required by the Illinois Boxing Act.

Athletic-Minded Professors To Cavort In Court Sport

WHEN YOU and I were young, Maggie, school teachers weren't exactly the athletic type.

Most of them wouldn't be caught dead at a sporting event, let alone participate in one.

But times have changed. In this modern day and age the teachers come streamlined too. You don't dare sass the history prof because chances are he's bigger and tougher then the star tackle on the football team.

ALSO, IF you challenge the math teacher to a game of hunch, it's a good bet he'll beat you.

If you don't believe me, pay a visit to Novato High's new gym this Friday night around 8 o'clock and see for yourself. The faculties of San Rafael and Novato high schools are going to play each other in basketball and it looms as quite a battle.

Not long ago the Novato profs formed a team, challenged the Novato varsity — and beat them!

AND IT WAS around that same time that San Rafael's teachers organized a team and proceeded to upset a high-powered quintet representing Radio Station KYA.

For Novato, some of the familiar names on the faculty lineup are Ken Anderson, Bob Aune, Harry Moore, Marlin Olsen, John Panagakis and Al Scott. Their San Rafael counterparts include Bill Monti, Mike Diaz, Milt Hain, Larry Lack and Ang Colombo, to name a few.

NOT AN absent-minded perfesser in the group. You'll be surprised at their ability. Teachers just ain't what they used to be.

Marin plays its regular season finale tonight at Napa so the Tars will still have the "feel" of that court when they return Friday night while Delta will be playing there for the first time.

Marin will need any kind of edge it can get, I would imagine. Delta has a 20-3 won-lost record this season and in no less than 12 games scored more than 100 points. I would say the Tars will have their hands full.

MY AGENTS tell me to jot down the name "Tim Stone" in my future basketball book and circle it in red ink.

Tim is a sixth grader at St. Raphael's School and all reports indicate he has a bright future in the court sport. During the recent Catholic Youth Organization season he consistently led his team in scoring, sometimes accounting for 80 per cent of the total points.

But scoring isn't everything. One agent reports: "Tim is tall for his age, has a good eye and good moves, drives well for the bucket and . . . well, he's the best player I've ever seen in that age bracket. He is an unusually good player."

Tim's dad is Dick Stone, former Tam High basketball star. They live in San Rafael, so it looks like either San Rafael or Marin Catholic high school will land this bright prospect.

BOB TONEFF, the ex-49er and now a Sleepy Hollow resident, will become a coach next grid season: He'll handle the linesmen for Head Coach Tony Barbera's Drake Junior Pirates in the Marin Pop Warner Conference.

University Of Pacific Vs. San Jose In Key Cage Tilt

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

University of Pacific tries to inch closer to the West Coast Athletic Conference basketball title tonight when it invades tough San Jose State.

UOP leads San Francisco by one game in the hectic battle and can wrap up the title with wins against the Spartans tonight and Santa Barbara Saturday. USF is at Pepperdine and Loyola this weekend.

Yesterday's action produced three Coast candidates for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics cage title. All three will go to the national City March 7-12.

Linfield flattened Eastern small school tourney at Kansas Oregon, 74-49 after rolling to a 131-83 triumph Monday. Ed Griffin hooped 22 for the winners Tuesday. Central Washington took Western Washington 74-63 as Chuck Hepworth and Mel Cox each tallied 18 for the winmont, 75-61, behind Vic Bilger's 25 points. That gave all three winners best-of-three victories in the regional playoffs and trips at Kansas City.

Meanwhile, several all-star teams were announced Tuesday.

The UPI All-Coast first team included John Block of Southern California, Joe Ellis and Erwin Mueller of University of San Francisco, Keith Swagerty of University of Pacific, and Jim Barnett of Oregon.

The second team was comprised of Mike Lynn and Ken Washington of UCLA, Tom Workman of Seattle, Art Harris of Stanford, and Loy Peterson of Oregon State.

Northern California sports writers named an all-star team from their area which included Ellis, Mueller, Swagerty, Harris, and S.T. Saffold of San Jose State.

Court's Jurisdiction Is Questioned

Baseball Bases Defense On State's Legal Power

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Baseball gave formal notice today that it would base its defense to Wisconsin's unprecedented antitrust suit on the contention that a state court lacks jurisdiction in the case.

Since the National League was founded in 1876 it has been self-regulating "under the eye of Congress," league counsel Bowie Kuhn told Circuit Court Judge Elmer W. Roller in completing the opening statements for the defense.

"And," he declared, "Congress has allowed that self regulation to continue."

Kuhn dealt individually with demands raised by Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson La Follette, who based the state suit on the proposed transfer of the Braves from Milwaukee to Atlanta:

—Expansion of the National League, an alternative suggested by the state, "is not only impossible but prohibited" by a federal court order issued in Houston.

—The state is being used "as a tool of a private group using the state as part of a scheme to harass baseball into submission."

Kuhn declared that "while piously protesting" baseball's approval of the Milwaukee-Atlanta transfer, "Wisconsin schemers were busily engaged in trying to lure Kansas City and Cleveland to move to Milwaukee."

Both cities, he noted, were one-team cities which would have been left without a franchise in the event their teams moved, as Milwaukee would be if the Braves are allowed to stay in Atlanta.

It was not known what witnesses might be called but it was learned that Bill Veeck, a former major league club owner, is in Milwaukee and likely will be summoned to the stand by the state. Ralph De Froge, former secretary- treasurer of the Braves, has been subpoenaed to testify.

The way was cleared yesterday for the trial to proceed when the logjam that had been created by behind-the-scenes legal fencing over 188 documents to be admitted as exhibits finally broke and allowed the combatants to proceed back to the court room.

There, before a packed room of 150 onlookers, the 17 legal experts and a jury box filled with reporters, the opposing attorneys made their opening remarks and clearly defined the issues in the case.

Earl Jinkinson, attorney for the Braves, said Wisconsin's suit could "lead to the utter destruction and ruination" of the sport and "could be the death knell of baseball."

Joe Campbell Proud To Be 'Unfit' Golfer

By WILL GRIMSLEY

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — If Joe Campbell keeps up his present pace on the pro golf tour, he may throw a monkey wrench into the President's Physical Fitness program.

Clean living and good habits are fine for some athletes — but, as far as Joe is concerned, they can have it.

"Some people may play better when they keep in strict training," Joe said today. "Not me. I'm at my best when I'm smoking and weigh over 205 pounds."

The blond-haired, 5-foot-8 Hoosier, now registering out of the little Tennessee town of Tansi, is second only to Arnold Palmer this year in official money winnings.

He has earned $12,100 compared with Palmer's $14,412 and can shoot far in front if he wins the $10,000 first prize here this weekend against such players as defending champion Doug Sanders, Julius Boros, Bob Charles and Bruce Devlin.

Campbell won the last PGA tournament on the tour, Tucson Open, collecting $8,000. He won $42,960, finishing in the top 10 in 10 tournaments last year.

"It started in June right after the National Open," Joe explained. "I ditched my diet, after losing 30 pounds and got up to over 200. I couldn't pivot as well but I knocked the ball much farther."

He finished second in the Philadelphia Golf Classic and third in the Carling World, Azalea and Canadian opens.

Campbell's trademark is a long, smoking cigar which he keeps clamped between his teeth, even when swinging a club.

He used to drop the stogies on the ground before taking shots but found that the spectators crushed them.

"It got so I burned up 20 to 25 a round," he said. "I couldn't afford it."

Cigars help his concentration, Campbell insists.

Cepeda Glad To Have Lindy On 'Our Side'

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP)—Orlando Cepeda watched Lindy McDaniel pitching easily at the San Francisco Giants spring training camp and observed:

Lindy came to the Giants, along with outfielder Don Landrum from the Chicago Cubs in an exchange last Dec. 2 for pitcher Bill Hands and catcher Randy Hundley, a pair of youngsters who had done most of their playing in the San Francisco farm system.

Asked if the fork ball was his bread and butter pitch, McDaniel replied, "No, my fast ball is, but I'm known for the fork ball, I guess, because it's a specialty pitch."

He throws it with his index finger and middle finger spread and the ball sinks.

The new Giant posted a 5-6 record as a relief specialist with the Cubs last year posting a 2.58 earned run average. That was a comeback from his 1-7 and 3.88 of the previous year. In 1963, his first with Chicago after being traded by St.Louis, he was 13-7 and 2.86.

With the signing of Willie McCovey to a contract estimated at $42,500, the Giants' holdout problems have been reduced to three—pitchers Juan Marichal and Bob Shaw plus outfielder Jesus Alou.

Marichal, with a 22-13 record and Shaw at 16 - 9 were the Giants biggest winners in 1965.

The former is thought to be asking about $70,000, a boost of $10,000, and the latter $50,000 or $16,000 more than he collected last season.

Marin Nine Whipped By Contra Costa

College of Marin's baseball team lost to Contra Costa Junior College yesterday in San Pablo, but only two of the winners' seven runs were earned. Final score was 7-3.

Bill Clark was stung with the loss although his teammates committed five errors. Dan Herrera got two of Marin's four hits, with Jerry Daniele and Ken Marter getting the other two, all singles.

Next action for the Tar baseballers will be Friday and Saturday in the Santa Rosa Invitational Tournament. The Tars will play two games each day, action starting at 11 a.m. Also in the tourney are San Mateo, Chabot and host Santa Rosa.

Shipes Keeps State Title

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — Charley Shipes, 147, of Oakland twice knocked down Al Andrews, 147, of Fresno last night in retaining his California welterweight championship with an easy 12-round decision.

A crowd of 2,500 turned out in the Foothill High School gym to watch the first known professional boxing match in Hayward history.

Judge Rudy Ortega voted 12-1, judge Len Morrow 12-0 and referee Elmer Costa 13-0 all for Shipes, who won his 12th straight. It was Shipes' second decision victory over Andrews.

Mrs. Korn Wins At Indian Valley

Mrs. Ernest Korn won the trophy day tournament yesterday at the Indian Valley Golf Club. Winners were:

TARS TRYING FOR PAGE IN GVC HISTORY BOOK

College of Marin's basketball team will be trying to make Golden Valley Conference history tonight in Napa.

The Tars will be winding up their regular season play against the Napa Junior College Chiefs. They've already clinched the conference championship, but a win tonight will make them the first basketball team to ever go undefeated through Golden Valley Conference action.

Tonight's game starts at 8 o'clock.

The Tars will again play at Napa J.C. Friday, meeting San Joaquin Delta of Stockton, champ of the Valley Conference. Winner of that challenge game earns the right to compete in the state tournament in Bakersfield, March 10-12.

Warriors Slip By Knicks, Move Back Into 3rd Place

DETROIT (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors were back in third place today in the National Basketball Association's Western Division thanks to a pair of rookies.

Rick Barry became the all-time NBA scoring rookie forward with 27 points last night and Fred Hetzel contributed 17 as the Warriors beat the New York Knicks 114-112 at Madison Square Garden.

Hetzel, a seldom-used rookie, filled in for ailing Nate Thurmond in the pivot and sank eight for nine from the floor, made his only free throw opportunity and took down 11 rebounds.

Walt Bellamy topped all scorers with 29 points for the last-place Knicks of the Eastern Division, who were eliminated from the playoffs for the eighth straight season.

Raiders Boost Ticket Prices For '66 Season

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Oakland Raiders have announced a new set of ticket prices to go with their new stadium, which is expected to be open for the 1966 American Football League season.

The 53,000-seat Coliseum will have approximately 33,000 seats between the goal lines and the team said yesterday they would cost $5.50 or $1 more than the top-priced seats at Frank Youell Field.

The stadium will have 13,000 second and third level end zone seats and these will be scaled at $4.50 per game. Another 7000 field-level end zone seats, priced at $3, will be sold on an unreserved basis from game to game.

Present season-ticket holders have until April 1 to renew if they want a shot at the best seats, according to a Raider spokesman.

JIM MURRAY

The Gap Between Willie And Alvin

Willie Howard Mays Jr., a published author, can do several things better than his fellow man—not including reading, writing or multiplication tables—but there is one thing he can do better than any man who ever lived— catch some kind of a hit or thrown ball on the dead run while his hat is falling off.

It's a useful talent—not to be confused, of course, with brain surgery or crop-dusting or singing at the Met or stopping nose bleeds. Still, it beats getting shot out of a cannon into a net every night or juggling Indian clubs on the old Fanchon and Marco circuit. By about $100,000 a year, it does.

Alvin Dark, on the other hand, was a moderately gifted athlete. Nobody ever called him "Mr. Shortstop." He didn't drink, smoke, chew or swear, and he gave 10 per cent of his income to his church.

Alvin Dark was a very good baseball manager because he didn't care how he beat you—whether it was a home run over the centerfield wall or whether he stuck a foot in the way of a bouncing curve ball, took second on a topped roller down the third base line, third on a passed ball and home on a balk.

Willie Mays, on the other hand, beat Sandy Koufax out of a ball game on a home run he hit because Sandy was forced to come over the plate with a ball. The ugliest incident in the long years of baseball had just taken place. Juan Marichal, a good-hitting pitcher, had just gone one-for-four on John Roseboro's head. One more "incident" and the pennant race would have been decided by the San Francisco police. Mays hit his home run because he knew exactly where the pitch was coming. "I didn't take much pride in the advantage I had," he has written.

There you have the fundamental difference between the two men. Their strange story is recounted in a book, "Willie Mays, My Life In and Out of Baseball."

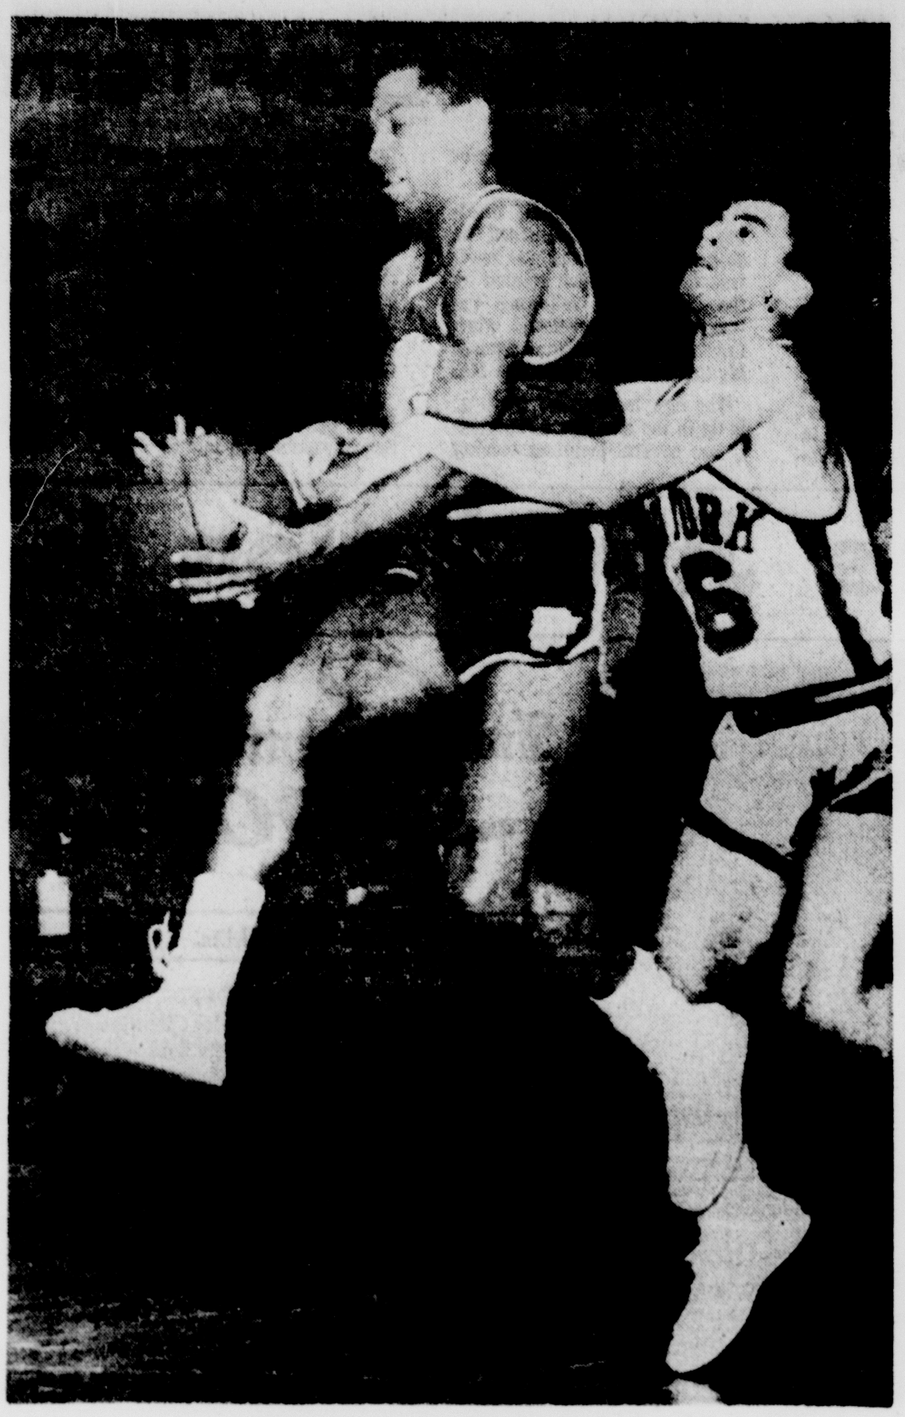
Alvin Dark, as a manager, had one extraordinary tendency when dealing with the press. When you asked him about his pitching rotation or whether he thought it might rain, he would be apt to say "no comment." When you asked him if he thought his third baseman was loafing or drinking too much, he would be apt to say, "I'll say!"

He undertook to explain the difference between Latin ballplayers and various racial strains of American ballplayers one day to a guy with an open notebook. Bits and pieces of Alvin Dark got blown all over baseball before the ink was dry on that story.

Willie Mays stopped speaking to him—although how he could tell I'm not sure. I've known Willie for over five years now and I'm still not sure whether he's speaking to me or not. Willie is much better at recognizing a curve ball than a person.

But Massa Dark didn't hit the cold-cold ground till he penned a long scholarly dissertation on the race problem in a Jackie Robinson book. It showed that Harriet Beecher Stowe, Lincoln, James Farmer and Ralph Bunche hadn't made as much of a dent as we thought. Willie went to the players and counseled, "Sit tight, fellows, this guy's got to go." And the dawn rose and Dark went.

Alvin Dark won a pennant with the Giants. If only he had stuck to the hit-and-run play and left the anthropology to someone more qualified—like Zsa-Zsa Gabor—he might have won two or three more. And Willie Mays would be speaking to him.



HOLD ON THERE, GUY

New Novato Residents Asks About Some Good Local Fishing Spots

STEVENS

A new Novato resident wrote me a letter last week and wanted to know about some nearby fishing spots.

Wrote A. B. Cochran of Romar Court 8 in Novato:

"We have just recently moved into this area and would request some help or assistance from you on local fishing possibilities.

"We were living in the Reno area and enjoyed very nice lake and stream trout fishing. I have, in the way of equipment, a Quick Finesse open faced spinning reel and a Garcia 6½-foot light-action, 4 to 8-pound line, rod.

"IS THERE some place in the local area where I can put my type of equipment to use for possibly trout, bass or maybe catfish? I don't know the fishing spots and have not yet made any fishing friends. I sure would be grateful if you could help me."

We print this letter in the hope that someone—some avid angler—will get in touch with Cochran and become a fishing friend. And that goes for unassigned newcomers on both sides of the Bay.

IN SPITE OF violent weather, trouting has been surprisingly good in the Gardnerville area. Topaz Lake was the scene of fast action with a trout (German brown) measuring 32½ inches in length,, and weighing 9 pounds, 11 ounces, landed by a local angler.

For your information, drive about 20 miles south of Lake Tahoe on Highway 395 to arrive at Topaz Lake. Recommended baits apparently are widely varied. These big trout seem to be partial to marshmallows, cheese, nightcrawlers and salmon eggs.

Judging by reports of salmon fishing out of Monterey, perhaps this area has been declared off-limits for salmon and salmon trollers.

THE LOCAL reward for salmon trollers is not bad at all. From time to time I've had my Halacrafter on and heard the skippers reporting a number of fish in the box and prospects for full limits quite promising. There has been quite a noticeable size increase in fish landed. For instance, Frank Mathews, Skipper of the "Sea Horse," brought in limits for his seven trollers to 18 pounds. Reporter "Roy" of Lee Anderson's in Oakland phoned in a last minute report that six anglers aboard the boat "Chinook" had limits to 21 pounds. The "Whirlaway" netted six limits to 20 pounds, and Skipper "Swede" Hanson reported five limits to 19 pounds.

I AM IN receipt of a very interesting letter from Bob Danse of Kentfield. His letter starts off, "Can you tell me about sportfishing for big sharks? My father, who lives in Detroit, is coming to the Bay Area to visit us in the latter part of March. While here he wants to go after the really big fellows, say 400 to 600 pounders. This they don't have in Michigan."

In my next column I will publicly reply to Bob's request. Should be interesting to all sportsfishermen.

Russ Smith Wins Scoring Honors In Red-Hot Race

Russ Smith, Redwood High School guard, ended the Marin Athletic League basketball season as scoring champ in a race that went right down to the wire.

With a 14.7 average, Smith edged out three other cagers who were at the 14 point level. Bob Tobin, Drake center, scored 173 points—11 points more than Smith—but played in one more game to place second with a 14.4 average.

Next were Steve Woodward of Tamalpais at 14.2, and Bruce McGee of Redwood, 14.0. All four top scorers were members of the all-league team announced yesterday.

But scoring more points than all the varsity players was Pat Schafer of Tam, a sophomore who scored 201 points and averaged 16.8 points per game in leading the Indians to a championship in Class B competition.

In team statistics, Redwood won the offensive part of things, averaging 61.3 points per game. Drake, the league champ, was best defensive team, allowing only 44.9 points per game. The Pirates were second in offense with a 52.8 average.

Cazzie Russell Is Player Of Year

By BILL HALLS

ANN ARBORN Mich. (AP) — The 14-year-old kid was playing catch with a baseball at Chicago's Carver High School when Larry Hawkins spotted him.

"You're not going to get a scholarship playing baseball," Hawkins told the boy. "Let's try basketball."

The boy, who still has ambitions to play baseball, is Cazzie Lee Russell Jr., named College Basketball's Player of the Year by The Associated Press yesterday.

"I hardly know what to say," said Russell when told of his selection while student-teaching at an Ann Arbor school. "I'm grateful. I hope I'm deserving of such an award."

Russell, who became the first player in Michigan history to score 2,000 points Monday when the Wolverines whipped Iowa 103-88, was quick to change the subject from himself to the team.

"I just hope we can win the Big Ten, and we're working real hard on that," he said, adding: "Then we can go for the big prize — the NCAA."

Russell has made All-Big Ten, and All-America, but Michigan has never come closer than second in the NCAA title run.

Russell's a sure bet to be the No. 1 selection in the National Basketball Assn. player draft this spring. But under NBA rules, will most likely wind up with the poorest team, either New York or Detroit.

Russell has other ambitions, including teaching, coaching, and radio broadcasting.

His 31 points against Iowa Monday gave him 2,029 for three varsity years at Michigan. The old mark of 1,725 was held by Bill Buntin, now with the Pistons. Russell also holds the season mark, 694 so far this year with two games to go.

"Just show up next fall," quipped Strack.

Russell had 75 college scholarship offers when he graduated from Carver. He decided on Michigan mostly because of Strack, who impressed Russell's father, Cazzie Sr.

Cazzie, an intense young man, whose machine gun conversation is spiced with humor, puts it differently.

"I watched Michigan on TV, and they were so bad I thought they needed help," he says.

Russell often goes to Yost Fieldhouse to practice shooting after church on Sundays.

His mother raised Cazzie and four brothers and sisters in the Baptist church, taking them by bus on Sunday mornings. Russell sings in baritone in the St. Paul Missionary Baptist choir on Sundays.

Russell said he hopes to stick in pro basketball for eight or nine years before turning to coaching or broadcasting.

A Champion Boxer At 31

TOKYO (UPI) —Horatio Accavallo of Argentina finally holds the world flyweight title at 31, the age most boxers are thinking about retiring.

Accavallo won the vacant title lastnight by pounding out a 15-round split decision over Japan's Katsuyoshi Takayama, who is nine years younger than the Argentine boxer.

Accavallo still does not hold international recognition as flyweight champion, however. He is recognized by the World Boxing Association and World Boxing Council, but Italian Salvatore Burruni is recognized by the European Boxing Union.

Last Place Seals Lose Again, 8-2

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP)—The last-place San Francisco Seals, who have had good luck against Victoria, play the Maple Leafs tonight.

The Seals have won 19, lost 31 and tied two during the season. Yet, they have six wins, two losses and two ties against the Leafs.

Victoria is in second place in the Western Hockey League.

The Seals' 8-2 loss to the Vancouver Canucks last night left San Francisco three points behind fifth-place Los Angeles. Ray Brunel with two goals and an assist led the Canucks to victory.

Brisk-Paced Trading Speeds Market Drop

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market today took another sharp loss as it closed with active trading.

After an initial loss, stocks rallied above their lows and the market as a whole was even on balance by midmorning. Many glamour stocks made sharp recoveries.

Here was the picture near the close:

Volume for the day was estimated at 10.5 million shares compared with 11.04 million yesterday.

Many of the high-flying electronics, aerospace, color television and airline stocks staged partial recoveries in early dealings but few could hold the gains.

Texas Instruments was down 11, Fairchild Camera 8, Motorola 6, Zenith and Magnavox close to 4 each.

Off about 2 were United Aircraft, General Dynamics, Radio Corp. and IBM.

Air Products and Addressograph slipped about 3 each, Polaroid, Xerox and American Smelting 4.

Bucking the trend, Foster-Wheeler spurted about 3½, Eastern Air Lines 2, Union Carbide, 2, Raytheon, High Voltage Engineering and Westinghouse Electric about a point each.

Fractional gains were held by such stocks as U.S. Steel, General Motors, Ford, Studebaker, American Telephone, Jersey Standard, Sperry Rand and Public Service Electric and Gas.

Anaconda (ex-dividend) slid about 1½. Down about a point were Santa Fe, Pennsylvania Railroad (ex-dividend), Southern Pacific, American Airlines, Pan American World Airways, Chrysler, Jones and Laughlin, Admiral, National Airlines and Delta Airlines.

Transamerica's Earnings Rise 12 Cents A Share

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Transamerica Corp. listed yesterday net earnings for 1965 of $42,417,677, equal to $2.16 a share, compared with $39,557,375 and $2.04 for the previous year.

Transamerica's holdings are Transamerica Insurance Group, De Laval Turbine Inc., Occidental Life Insurance Co., Pacific Finance Corp. and Transamerica Title Insurance Co.

Occidental earned $22.32 million, Pacific earned $8.12 million and Transamerica Title $3.43 million.

Earnings dropped for Transamerica Insurance Group and De Laval. Transamerica Insurance earned $1.5 million, compared with $3.7 million the previous year, and De Laval earned $309,508, compared with $1.6 million in 1964.

Copper Shortages

NEW YORK (UPI) — Spreading strikes in the industry are accentuating the copper shortage. At Ruth, Nev., a walkout of 1,000 miners slowed Kennecott's output. One of Zambia's seven mines has been struck and a sympathy strike loomed at Anaconda's Chilean mines, caused by walkouts in other industries.

Lucky Stores Dividend Rises

Directors of Lucky Stores, Inc. have increased the cash dividend from 3 cents to 40 cents per share on the common stock, payable March 28, 1966 to shareholders of record March 7, 1966.

In line with the company's increase in earnings, this is the fourth increase in dividends since May, 1964, and is double the rate of 20 cents paid at that time.

The board declared a 3 per cent stock dividend, payable July 22, 1966, to shareholders of record June 7, 1966. The board intends to recommend to shareholders at its annual meeting in May that the common shares be increased from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 and, if this be done, contemplates authorization of a two-for-one stock split in the form of a 100 per cent stock dividend.

If this proposed split is approved, the board announced that it intends to declare quarterly dividends of 20 cents on the split shares, equivalent to the new 40 cent rate on present shares.

Journal Plans Peninsula Plant

NEW YORK (AP)—Dow Jones and Co., Inc., publisher of the Wall Street Journal, announced plans yesterday for construction of a printing plant and office building in Palo Alto, Calif.

The company will spend $3 million on land, machinery and equipment and $1.3 million for construction.

The new plant will handle production of the Journal now carried out in San Francisco. The newspaper's advertising and news staff will remain in San Francisco.

The 53,000-square-foot facility will be erected on an 8½-acre site in the Stanford Industrial Park.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Making An Average May Bring Saving

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

Did you have over $3,000 more income in 1965 than you had in prior years?

If you did, income averaging may be a big tax saver for you. Income averaging is one of the most complex set of rules yet for an individual taxpayer. However, if you qualify it can be a tremendous tax saver.

P. J. Wikel

To be eligible for the averaging provisions, you must:

1. Have either been a citizen or resident of the United States during 1965.

2. Your income must have been subject to United States tax during 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964 and 1965.

3. You must also provide 50 per cent or more of your own support to qualify.

A. This support requirement is not necessary if you are at least 25 years old during 1965 and have not been a full-time student for at least four years since age 21.

B. The support requirement does not apply if over half of your adjusted taxable income for 1965 is substantially the result of work you did in two or more of the base period years.

C. If you are self-supporting and married to someone who has been a dependent of another taxpayer, you can use averaging if 75 per cent or more of your combined adjusted gross income for 1965 is your income.

If you are eligible, be sure to study the rules carefully before making the computations. Get a form 1040G from the Internal Revenue Service and follow the instructions - step by step. They are confusing, but if carefully followed, will bring you out with the right answer.

Be sure to use Form 1040G and attach a copy to your tax return.

If there is any doubt, you should consult your tax adviser early, or purchase the book "Your Federal Income Tax" for 1966, for 50 cents from the District Director of Internal Revenue or from the U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C.

Finland is referred to as the land of a thousand lakes.

Shipper's Dividend

OAKLAND — Director of Pacific Intermountain Express Co. have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share on its common stock. Payable April 1 to stockholders of record March 15.

No End Seen To Nation's Prosperity

The economic growth has already set endurance records for any period free of full-scale warfare. In the five years since the economy started its climb in March, 1961, records have been set year after year. And 1966 gives every sign of maintaining the trend.

The Gross National Product rose last year to $675 billion. This total of the nation's output of goods and services, both government and private, is expected to hit a new high of $720 billion this year.

Business is eager to expand its plant and equipment even more this year, but the cost of financing this is on the way up. And shortages of some needed materials are sending purchasing agents scurrying.

Unemployment, a stubborn economic sore five years ago, is now down to around 4 per cent of the available labor force. Profits are at a record high—both for business as a whole and for many individual companies.

Industrial production as a whole has been rising almost steadily.

Personal incomes continue to rise, although higher Social Security taxes bite into take-home pay. Consumer spending hasn't been hit, since many shoppers are taking on more installment debt if cash looks short at the moment.

Added to high consumer spending for goods and services and business spending for inventories and expansion are rising outlays by all levels of government. The Viet Nam war and the Great Society are taking more federal dollars. Community growth is spurring greater outlays by state and local governments. All this spending keeps the prosperity pot boiling.

Kurtz Opens Harvest Development At New Location In San Rafael

Harvest has been operating in the Industrial Center Building in Marinship, Sausalito for the past three months, but moved north to gain more space. At Belvedere Street is occupies 7,750 square feet. The company, which may be incorporated soon, is owned by Albert J. Kurtz of Inverness and his family.

The firm started off manufacturing plastic packaging components for the Leslie Salt Co. and is now specializing in food packaging products—hence the name "Harvest."

Kurtz is also the principal in Kurtz Kraft Corp., located only two blocks away at 97 Louise Street, San Rafael.

THE NAME of Marin County Abstract and Title Co. has been changed to Western Title Guaranty Co., Marin County Division. Marin County Abstract has been affiliated with Western Title since 1922. A. H. Burnett, who has been a director of Western Title, which had its origin in 1848. The new company will remain a separate corporation; Burnett will continue as president, and Paul B. Newell as executive vice president.

Besides the downtown San Rafael and Mill Valley offices, the company expects to open another office in the Margarita Plaza at Northgate Industrial Park, when the first building in this professional complex is completed this year.

NOVATO GARDEN CENTER at 1114 First Street, Novato has been purchased from Raymond and Alice Hendricks by Victor and Deloris Raggio.

Raggio has been commuting from his home in Novato to the wholesale flower market in San Francisco for the past two years, and his family was in the wholesale end of the business in Colma for many years.

Name will remain the same and no major changes in the business are contemplated.

NEW NAME for C. John's Fashions, women's apparel shop in Strawberry Town and Country Village will be The Boudoir.

The store has been taken over by Mrs. Jeanette Mulhern of San Rafael, who had the Den next door—and the two will be operated together. John C. and Helen Iacone sold out the fashion store because of illness in the family.

FOX AND CARSKADON, INC. has opened a new branch office at Caribe Isle and Bel Marin streets in Bel Marin Keys. It is the firm's fourth Marin office and will handle sales for the 2,200-acre marina development.

Sommer

RALPH (SKIP) SOMMER of Mill Valley has been named by International Business Machines Corp. as one of the company's top salesmen in the United States for 1965. He is an account manger for IBM in San Francisco and will receive an expense paid trip to Miami and the Bahama Islands. He was formerly owner of Skipper's Restaurant in Sausalito and has been active in little theater performances in Marin County.

REAL ESTATE LOANS in Marin County during January were $23,040,750 — up substantially from the $19,057,440 during the first month last year, according to the Data Sheet of Title Insurance and Trust Co.

Dow Dividend Up

SAN FRANCISCO — The Dow Chemical Co. has increased its quarterly dividend from 45 to 50 cents for the current quarter, payable on its common stock April 29 to stockholders of record at the close of business March 30.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Youth In Marin Deserve Credit For Keeping Busy

Youth gets a "black eye" because the small minority who make the news too often do so for a variety of unsavory, sometimes tragic reasons — narcotics, drunkenness, vandalism and other anti-social behavior.

These catch the public eye and leave a lasting imprint, while the big majority of others who make headlines through personal achievement or public service go almost unnoticed, even if they are featured with pictures and fairly large headlines.

Today we turn the spotlight on some of the constructive and commendable activities of our teen-agers. Their actions have been reported periodically in this newspaper and will be reported in the future. In case you have missed them, here are some samples:

On Lincoln's Birthday weekend, students from all Marin high schools attended the Model United Nations at the University of California. Each student group represented one of the world's nations, not in name only but in the views expressed. The students researched and prepared for a year to get the "feel" of the countries they were representing.

It is to Marin's credit that three of our schools placed within the top 10, among the 120 schools competing.

That same weekend in Sacramento, another group of Marin youths were giving just as good an account of themselves at the YMCA's annual Model Legislature.

Marin's delegation of about 50 sponsored and pushed a drunken driving "bill," one of the few to whiz through both houses. The "bill" called for stiffer penalties for teen-aged drunken drivers, which is an indication that the majority of our teen-agers are in favor of more self-discipline, not less.

The YMCA program, emanating from the headquarters on Irwin Street in San Rafael, involves more than 850 boys and girls in a series of service and recreational projects throughout the year.

While a small minority makes headlines through rowdyism, speeding and other violations, these Y members work as youth counselors at Sonoma State Hospital or assist the handicapped, disabled and the disadvantaged.

The performances of both groups, one at the Model United Nations and the other at the Model Legislature, were a credit to Marin County and to its teen-agers.

Another county-wide youth project, which is potentially even more far-reaching, is still to come. That is the Marin Youth Conference set for Saturday, March 19, at the College of Marin campus.

The aim here is to bring together a thousand youngsters — not just the leaders, but the followers, the rejects, the rebels and the disgruntled—for a face-to-face discussion of their problems and a search for solutions. More about this another day.

Suffice it to say that the bulk of our teen-agers are more serious-minded and sophisticated than some of us give them credit for being.

Those who complain they have "nothing to do" might investigate how others of their age manage to keep themselves occupied.

Each Bird An Individual

A bird-watching friend said to us several weeks ago, "The humming birds are back at our place in San Rafael, but they're not the same ones we had last year."

We asked how he could tell, "Why, each bird is different. One has a crook in its beak, another has a feather that's a little out of line, one does a dip before it feeds, some are aggressive, some shy. They've got all kinds of personalities and you get to know them," he said.

The more we thought about it, the more we were sure he was right. Even among quail, we have detected separate birds and personality types, such as the faint-hearted, outcast male, that all the other male quail chase angrily down our drive.

Decision Supporting The Firing Of Teachers Shows Reasoning

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The right of San Jose State College to refuse rehiring of a state assemblyman as a teacher in the college has been upheld by the State Supreme Court.

The college teacher is William F. Stanton, D-San Jose, one of Santa Clara County's representatives in the lower house.

Stanton, with another professor, filed suit against Glenn Dumke, chancellor of the state college, after Dr. John Wahlquist, president of San Jose State, decided not to recommend the two for re-employment. This was in 1962.

IN THE SUIT, Assemblyman Stanton charged that Dr. Wahlquist's reason was based on the fact that he and the other professor, Dr. Bud R. Hutchinson, participated in uncovering an asserted secret agreement to exclude Southern sit-in students from California state colleges, and also because they were active on behalf of a teachers' union.

The case went through the superior court, which upheld the college officials in refusing to rehire Stanton and Hutchinson.

It was taken to the district court of appeals by the two teachers, and the district court reversed the superior court.

FURTHER COURT action brought the case to the California Supreme Court, which reversed the court of appeals decision.

Assemblyman Stanton claimed the state college officials had infringed on his constitutional rights in refusing to rehire him. The supreme court said of this charge that Stanton failed to make his case in their respect.

"Plaintiffs could ask for no more than an opportunity to present their charges of arbitrary denial of such rights at a fairly conducted hearing, at which the record supports the decision of the employing authority."

THE SUPREME COURT, which issued a unanimous decision in the case, said there was no reason to explore further the contention that the constitutional rights of the two were violated.

Further presentation of "evidence" by the plaintiffs that the state college president had anti-union bias demonstrated only the care taken by Dr. Wahlquist to guard against any anti-union bias on the part of the college committees and departments, which in routine procedure made the original reports as to retention or non-retention.

THE DECISION pointed out that reasons for not re-employing at the college were based on improvement and efficiency of teaching ability, the value of the employee to the college, present and possible future contributions to the field of learning.

"Nothing in the record," the decision said, "would warrant a conclusion that the decision not to re-employ plaintiffs turned on other than the customary academic and professional reasons."

Fong & Tong Is Reputable Firm

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This letter is written on behalf of Fong & Tong, an accounting firm we represent. Reference is made to an article which appeared in your Feb. 21, 1966, edition under the by-line of Richard Lyttle, titled "Technical Error in Homestead".

The so-called technical error was, of course, a trivial one. However, the article was used as a basis for making reference to the firm of Fong & Tong in a manner reflecting on the ability of that firm and causing them considerable embarrassment.

I call your attention to the first two full paragraphs which appear on page 4 of your Feb. 21 edition. The statement is made that Mr. Mitchell assigned auditor Norman J. Tylor of his office to review the audit prepared by Fong & Tong, states flatly that "there was no mention of the Wolfe payments in the audit . . ." and proceeds to state that Mitchell will recommend that future audits for sanitary districts be made by his office or by local firms.

The obvious suggestion that the audit was not properly done is entirely unwarranted.

In the first place, the factual statement is incorrect. Exhibit "A" of the audit under heading "Expenditures" shows payment of directors compensation of $600 and payment of field and office expenses, which are the expenses for the District Secretary, in the sum of $1150. The same figures appear again on Exhibit B which is a schedule of comparative operating statements and a proposed budget.

Mr. Richard Tong, a member of the firm of Fong & Tong, is a Certified Public Accountant whose residence is in Mill Valley. The whole treatment of the matter was pointless and damaging, without purpose, to a reputable firm.

I am, by this letter, requesting that by an article of equal prominence the factual misstatement be corrected and some clear statement made retracting any implication of lack of competence on the part of the firm of Fong & Tong.

Will you please advise me what is being done.

Sanitary District Audit 'Well Done'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I recently received a copy of a letter addressed to you dated Feb. 24, 1966, written by Mr. Sidney Rudy on behalf of Fong & Tong, the accounting firm headquartered in San Francisco.

The above accounting firm performed the audit for the Fiscal Year 1964-65 for the Homestead Valley Sanitary District.

I did not state that the above audit was not properly done, nor was this included in the article printed by your paper. I did state that the above accounting firm overlooked the $10 per month directors' fees as reflected in the minutes of the above District to Mr. Gus Wolfe, specifically as a director. The Assistant County Counsel, Dick Godino, indicated that this $10 per month payment was technically in error. The Directors of the Homestead Valley Sanitary District admitted this technical error in the minutes and, subsequent to the news release, eliminated the $10 per month payment but did, in fact, increase the field and office expense and secretarial expense by a like amount.

Except for the above minor omission, the audit was very well done and included all revenue and expenditures applicable to the Homestead Valley Sanitary District, and there is no disagreement on the part of this office against the above firm.

Strictly as a policy matter, I feel that all audits pertaining to special districts should be performed either by this office or Marin County auditing firms. This does not imply disparagement either to a San Francisco firm or an accounting firm located anywhere in the State.

Trusting that the above clarifies the matter for all concerned.

Two Different Redwood Views

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It all depends on the values you put first.

If, as Henry Ficken suggests, it is merely keeping men employed, regardless of what they are doing, that is more important, then of course we should go on cutting down redwood trees. And we must have made a mistake in setting aside all those other parks and wilderness areas, because just think how many trees we could cut down there, too.

But if, with President Johnson, we think it is more important to preserve the small fragment we have left of a forest which is unique on earth, then we will protect it as we should have done long ago.

Reasoning Explained For Ranch Preserve

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Feb. 19, 1966 you headlined an article "Second Marin Ranch Gets Tax Break As Preserve" and I feel that our thinking should be explained as to why we signed the Agriculture Preserve agreement with Marin County.

Many issues are involved: taxes, land values, land speculation, forced development of rural land near cities and most of all the threatened loss of the very thing we bought our land for, a beautiful place to live, to raise children on a going ranch and to remain a secure home base for those children and other family now scattered about in these insecure times.

Ranches in our area, with higher speculative land value and correspondingly higher taxes, can no longer operate successfully as ranches. Gradually ownership is transferring to speculators who will then push for everything leading to the highest dollar value development. Some development is necessary, but the reason many people live in Marin is because of its natural beauty and if we attach any value to that, let's save some.

By signing this agreement, we have reduced our land value as well as our taxes. But land value is reduced in dollar market value only. Its real value is enhanced because it promises to remain beautiful and remain more economically within our means as a home. We hope many others will do likewise for the enrichment of Marin County.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

OPERA STAR Richard Tucker recently made a guest appearance at the San Francisco Opera at what was announced to be a record high salary. When Tucker entered his hotel room he found a big package addressed to him. It contained a giant flower pot with a single daisy planted therein. The card, signed by the head of the San Francisco Opera, read, "Welcome to our city. With what we're paying you, this is the best we can afford."

AT A GEORGETOWN home, a visiting couple writhed with boredom while the overvivacious hostess raved on and on about her two-month-old baby. Finally, however, she gave her guests an unexpected break. She rose abruptly and rushed upstairs to change the subject.

Raucous Name-Callers Debasing Right To Peaceful Picketing

But raucous, name-calling protestors are debasing this right when they use it to harass a public assembly simply because it is a forum for views they don't like.

It is coming to a point where those who practice it had better pause before they do great harm.

IT REACHED ITS peak of defamation in New York this past week when pickets, hurling epithets and abuse at the President of the United States, sought to hamper a vast public gathering to honor the President.

While the pickets outside were screaming, "Hey, hey, LBJ, how many kids did you kill today?" the President was telling his Freedom House audience: "We have learned to despise. . .the unprincipled harassment of a man's integrity and his right to be different."

While the pickets were chanting, "The black vote first, the Vietnamese vote later," the President was saying that freedom cannot be fully protected at home if the rights of others to freedom is allowed to be suffocated by aggression abroad.

While the pickets were protesting because a public assembly was advocating views they oppose, the President was saying: "Just as strongly as I believe in other men's freedom to disagree, so do I also believe in the President's freedom to attempt to persuade. So let me assure you and my fellow Americans that I will do everything in my power to defend both."

WHEN THE President rose to begin his speech, one member of the audience leapt to his feet and tried to shout him down.

What do the pickets and those who condone this abuse of free assembly think they are doing? Are they furthering that full public debate which helps democracy work? I submit that theirs is an extremist tactic which serves to limit, rather than foster, the free interplay of thought.

It is time to stop it. It is the tactic of extremists who don't care what happens to democracy in America. George Field, executive director of Freedom House, gives this wise warning of where such abasement of free speech can take us:

"The extremist, unable to tolerate views other than his own, perverts the expression of his dissent into a weapon. He seeks to hamper his opponents, to drown them out, sometimes even to interfere physically with their expression.

"THIS IS the tactic that leads the Americans for the Preservation of the White Race to announce that they will demonstrate when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy speaks at the University of Mississippi. It is the tactic of those who called for demonstrations in the streets around the building where the President received the Freedom Award. It is the tactic of the extremist who, even while loudly proclaiming his own right to dissent, cannot bear to allow others to express their views unharassed."

Expression of dissent by petition or demonstration is an essential element of a free society. But when pickets use the precious right of free assembly to harass free assembly—what a defacement of the true purpose of the picket line!

SURELY, OF all people, liberals ought to be condemning, not condoning, such illiberalism.

Sol Hurok Manages To Bring Bolshoi

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—It looks as if the Bolshoi Ballet will tour the U.S. after all — even though a new cultural exchange agreement with Russia is still far from negotiated and the State Department is publicly warning Americans about the hazards of traveling there.

Reason for the strong likelihood of a Bolshoi tour is a wily strategem put over by impresario Sol Hurok—who stands to profit handsomely from such a tour.

The Russian-born New Yorker's ingenious device is a benefit performance by the Bolshoi for the School for United Nations Children sponsored by U.N. Secretary General U Thant, U.S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg and Soviet Ambassador Nikolai Fedorenko.

Two conclusions are inescapable:

THE STATE DEPARTMENT must have approved Goldberg's joining in sponsoring this unique "benefit"; the Bolshoi is not coming to the U.S. solely for this one performance in the Metropolitan Opera House. That would be far too costly, and there would be no "benefits" for the U.N. school.

Clearly, the only deduction to be drawn is that the State Department is permitting the Bolshoi to make a 13-week U.S. tour without awaiting the outcome of negotiations over a new cultural exchange pact.

The Reds made no secret that the intensifying Viet Nam war was standing in the way of a new agreement. But they had been increasingly obstreperous before that.

They had refused to accept the widely acclaimed musical comedy "Hello, Dolly," as well as a number of prominent jazz musicians, dancers and other performers and movies.

The State Department let it be known it would insist on more latitude and control in the new pact over artists and productions selected to go to Russia.

IN HIS VIGOROUS backstage pressuring of the State Department, he argued ballet lovers should not be made to suffer because of the strains and stresses of foreign policy. He clamored for special permission for a Bolshoi tour in the spring, regardless of the eventual outcome of negotiations over a new cultural exchange treaty.

The Soviet was all for that. So much so that it was intimated special permission should also be granted for a country-wide swing by the famed Moscow Circus. Both tours would have netted the Kremlin—and Hurok—several or more million dollars.

THE WORLD-FAMED National Institutes of Health will shortly decide whether to undertake the development of an atomic-powered artificial heart.

Thousands of Americans die each year because a hopelessly diseased or injured heart is unable to function in an otherwise sound body. At present, little can be done to save these victims because unreparable hearts cannot be replaced.

Medical scientists, working under contract from the National Heart Institute, a branch of the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., are studying a number of possible mechanical hearts.

Blackie's Gone But His Glory Is Likely To Live On And On

Blackie's dead, but the almost incredible glory of Tiburon's sway-backed horse is likely to grow for many years. Until his death Saturday, Blackie was like a mascot for peninsula residents. Now he'll probably become a legend.

Amidst the weeping, handwringing, and talk of memorials to Blackie, voices in the crowd have been asking lately why such a big fuss is being made over the death of the old horse. It may not be a popular question, but it's a good one.

LOCAL PEOPLE have a hard time explaining just why they loved Blackie so much, but as closely as I can tell, Blackie became a symbol of "old time Tiburon" in recent years. He was put out to pasture at Trestle Glen and Tiburon boulevards in 1938 and gradually saw the land around his field fall to subdivider's bulldozer.

Tiburon Councilman Jacqueline A. Parnell Monday night introduced a resolution before the Tiburon City Council which gives support to a Tiburon Chamber of Commerce proposal to erect a monument to Blackie.

BLACKIE STOOD for the peninsula's pastures before development, according to Mrs. Parnell. "Driving by his field," she said, "I used to think what the area was like before we wrecked it."

Blackie became a landmark for the long-time residents of the area who saw time erode his once strong back into a deep valley. They used to give directions like "take the first left after the s w a y-backed horse," rather than mention by name the new subdivisions.

And Blackie became a quick way for newcomers to the area to associate with its heritage. Many children became a part of Tiburon just by joining the troop of Blackie's young patrons who would bring him carrots and sugar lumps daily.

BLACKIE WAS also one of the rare topics which would transcend Tiburon's finicky politics, according to Mrs. Parnell.

A recent proposal that miniature motorscooters be run near his pasture almost met defeat when someone claimed that the bikes would disturb Blackie. And Mrs. Parnell's resolution to s u p p o r t the Blackie monument effort was dispatched with uncommonly sublime u n a n i m i t y by the council.

They're talking now about putting Blackie's monument outside of the city hall. That's assuming, of course, that Marin's youngest city eventually gets around to building itself a city hall.

It's Getting To Be (Yawn) That You Can't Sleep For Staying Up

WASHINGTON — No one in Washington is talking about it, but there is a sleep gap in the Johnson administration and it's getting more serious all the time. The President, who according to reports doesn't need much sleep because of extra glands, makes no secret of his admiration for those who are able to operate on as little sleep as he does. Time and time again he has praised those who are in their offices at seven in the morning and don't leave until very late at night.

All the Cabinet officers are in their chairs dozing—waiting for the President to arrive.

HE ENTERS the room and everyone tries to wake up.

"Well, gentlemen," the President says, "it's good to see you all looking so haggard and bleary-eyed. We're getting a lot done."

The attorney general stifles a yawn.

"Were you trying to say something, Mr. Katzenbach?"

"No, sir, Mr. President. I was just yawning."

"GOOD BOY. You're doing a fine job. Well, let's get down to business. I'd like to discuss the opposition we're getting in the Senate. Mr. McNamara. Will somebody wake up Mr. McNamara?"

Mr. McNamara says, "Uh-wha-uh, oh, yes, sir, Mr. President."

"Mr. McNamara," the President says, "when I called you at three this morning, your wife said you had already gone to bed."

"Yes, sir, I was at the Pentagon until two, so I decided to make an early night of it."

"That's all right, sir."

"It was the four o'clock call that was important. You can imagine my surprise when I found out that you had gone back to sleep."

"I WASN'T REALLY sleeping, sir. I just had my eyes closed waiting for your next call."

Mr. Rusk is going, "Zzzz, zzzzzz, zzzzzz."

One of Mr. Rusk's a i d e s shakes him.

"I called the State Department at 6:30 this morning, Mr. Rusk, and you hadn't arrived yet. S o m e t h i n g wrong at home?"

"No, sir. I just went to the dentist and hadn't gotten in yet. Was there anything special, Mr. President?"

"WELL, WHEN you left the White House at 2:30 this morning. I still had a c o u p l e of questions to ask you about Viet Nam.

"You should have called me at home."

"At that hour? Come to think of it, I tried to, but someone took the phone off the hook."

"It must have been one of the servants, sir."

"It doesn't make any difference. I called the Vice President instead. He sounded very chipper. I was surprised. Apparently I'm still not giving Hubert enough to do."

"Five hours, sir, but I slept fitfully."

"All right, gentlemen, I guess that winds up the Cabinet meeting. Let's all meet back here at one in the morning, unless any of you have something better to do."
